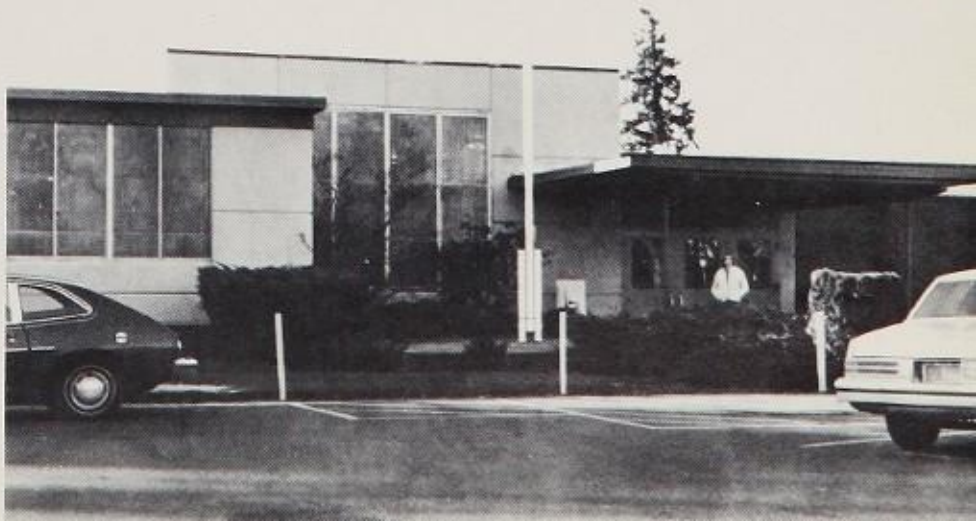
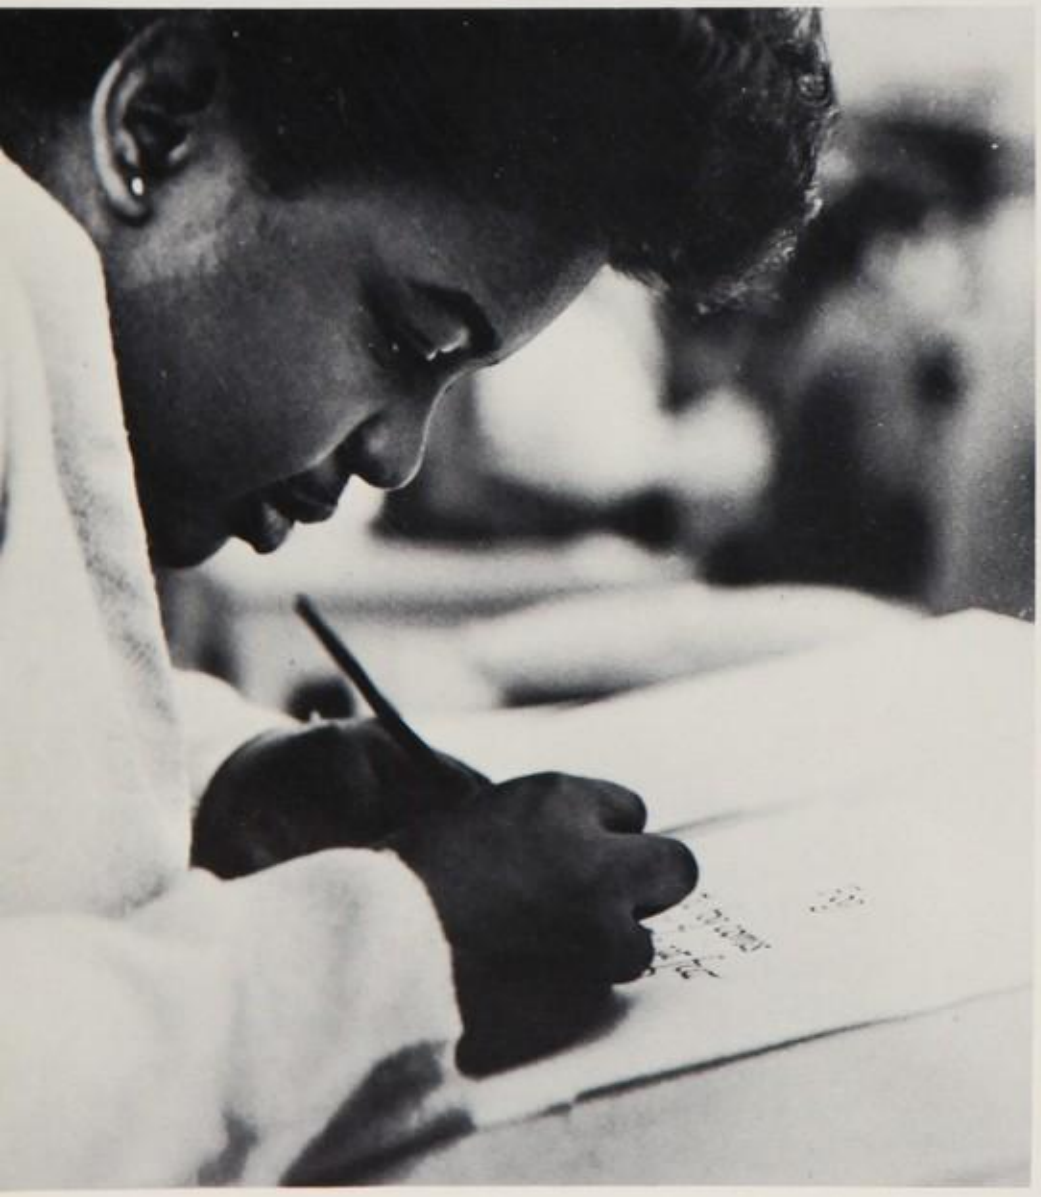
Volume 27



Looking back, we remember
Dreams, hopes, aspirations
Of what we wanted to be . . .

We are like actors
Upon a stage —
Rehearsing, training, failing,
Waiting for that
Final performance . . .



The world looked upon us
With a cautious eye —
Watching our moves,
Applauding our success,
frowning on failure . . .

The future seemed
all so distant,
We floated aimlessly through life . . .

Never remaining constant
Yet never really going anywhere . . .

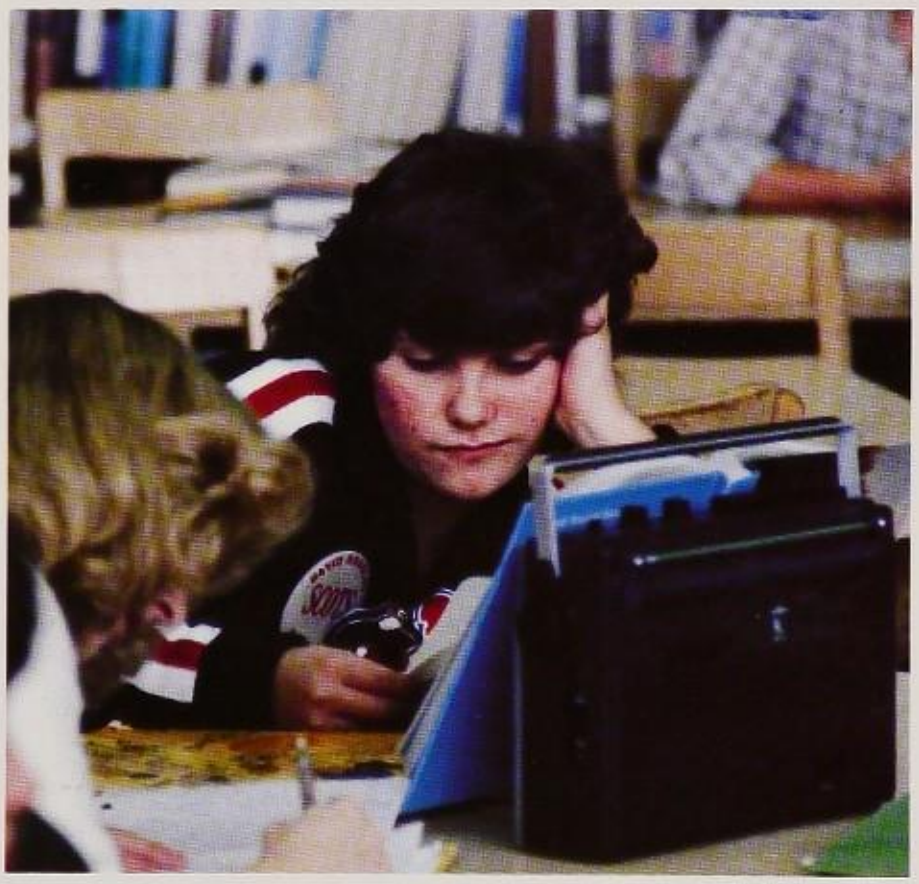
Following the wind, we never know
Just where it will take us . . .



Now we must
Adjust our sails
And let the stream
Of life take its course . . .

Nameless, faceless forms
Blur our memory,
Seeming important,
At least for the moment . . .

Our false ideas of importance
Giving us a temporary
Sense of security . . .

We made our Own sheltered
World.
Life on the Outside was Non existent . . .

It didn't make much sense
Thinking about
The dent we had
Yet to make in the world;

The future seemed Distant,
Yet ever present . . .

Sophistication and Confidence
Are yet to come.
The pain of growing and Learning hasn't ended.

Only our sense of Wonder and expectance
Can soften our entrance into maturity . . .

Looking back,
We remember . . .

Realizing life has Only just begun.

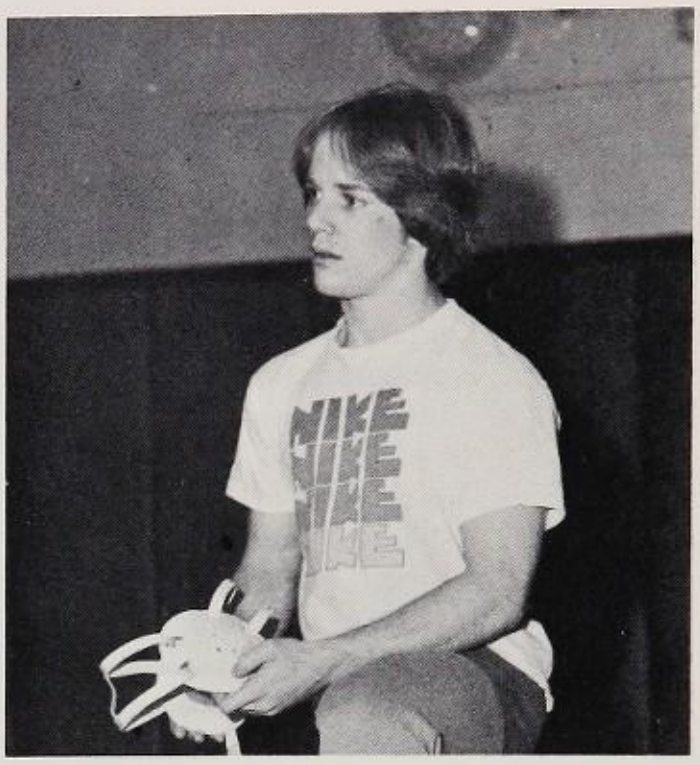
Senior Scholars Achieve Honors

A total of eight seniors achieved the top scholastic honors for the Class of '82. The valedictorians were Neil Berry, Dave Elott, Shannon Lannigan, and Dave Marier. Salutatorians included Rob Bents, Bill George, Becky Rasmussen and Yvonne Williams.

Besides classroom excellence, sports music, and speech were major activities for these seniors. George, Bents, and Williams all participated at the varsity sports level of competition. The music department was well served by the efforts and talents of Marier, Lannigan Williams, George, and Rasmussen, whereas Elott was a mainstay of the Scot speech squad.



CLOCKWISE, LEFT: Neil Berry will be attending O.S.U. where he plans to major in bio-chemistry . . . Dave Elott plans to study law, hopefully at Princeton University . . . With an interest in physical therapy, Becky Rasmussen will pursue her goals at Linfield College . . . The Air Force Academy is the desire of Rob Bents . . . Psychology and literature will be studied by Shannon Lannigan at Reed College . . . Studying to become a lawyer, Dave Marier plans to attend Lewis and Clark College . . . Chemistry and engineering is the goal of Bill George at Stanford University . . . With plans for becoming a doctor, Yvonne Williams intends to study at Linfield College.

Honors Bestowed On Class of '82

Many honors, numerous awards, and much praise were heaped upon the seniors both individually and as a class at the annual Senior Recognition Night. Leading the honors parade were the co-recipients of the coveted Light award, Bill George and Yvonne Williams, while Dave Elott garnered the Fenn award for outstanding service to the school. Topping the list of scholarship winners were Anita Wyatt and George who won the Memorial Scholarships.

Many other awards were made in all areas of academic and extra curricular achievement, some expected and others coming as surprises to the winners.

CLOCKWISE, RIGHT: Bill George and Becky Rasmussen share the spotlight as they receive recognition . . . Dave Waage and Rob Oliver clear the final obstacle on their way to graduation! . . . The mistress of ceremonies honors for Senior Rec Night were ably handled by Penny Walls . . . Senior Jennifer Moore, backed by other members of the jazz ensemble, belt out a song as part of the evenings entertainment . . . Neil Berry obviously is very pleased with his award.

Graduates Reach End of Journey

The magic of graduation night engulfed the seniors at the Coliseum as they gathered for the last time as a class at David Douglas. After the last minute rush to robe up, the processional began, and into the hall marched the Class of 1982. After the appropriate comments by various dignitaries and a song by the choir, the spot light turned on each individual graduate as the diplomas were awarded. Four long years had ended so suddenly, and the Class of '82, the "Class with class", was history.

CLOCKWISE, ABOVE: Two soon-to-be grads find a quiet moment to relax before the ceremony begins . . . Shannon Murray addresses her classmates. She and Shannon Lannigan were the Class speakers . . . Adding a touch of the Islands to his attire, Hawaiian Sam Nerveza makes a last minute adjustment to his hat . . . At the command of "General" George Hahn, the candidates begin to "Fall in" . . . As the last grad receives his diploma, the Class of 1982 erupts in uncontrolled enthusiasm.

ACADEMICS

Scientific Study Intrigues Scots

Through science classes students explore the natural world in which we live. What they learn through theoretical work is later applied to their experiments.

The wide selection of classes available to students gives them a chance to excel in a specialized field of study. Biology, chemistry, and physics are a few of the courses that are offered each year.

Foreign Studies Prove Popular

Many David Douglas students choose to enroll in a foreign language course during part of their four years of study. In these classes students not only learn to speak a foreing language, but they study the food and customs of their chosen country. French, Spanish, and German are the language classes available for study. Various ethnic activities take place throughout the year, providing cultural awareness.

Art Encourages Student Creativity

Art classes give student a chance to develop their creative ability while increasing their knowledge in the art field. A wide selection of art classes are currently being taught at Douglas. For students who like to sketch or paint there are classes in general art, painting, and drawing. The craft minded student can employ his talents in ceramics, jewelry, or craft classes.

Special Classes Result in Rapid Progress

Students who have come to David Douglas from other countries and are having English language difficulties usually enroll in the English Second Language program. Through this program they learn English while keeping their original language and cultural heritage.

David Douglas also recognizes the needs of students who have trouble learning in a crowded classroom environment. Classes are provided which give these students extra instruction in such areas as reading so they may progress more rapidly.

CLOCKWISE, BELOW: Working closely with her teacher, Mrs. Sue Anderson, Pam Cherry completes her project . . . Mrs. Sherry Scheinman explains an assignment to Ron Allen . . . Young Sik Huh and Young Kwan Huh discuss an assignment . . . Susan Duncan works to improve her reading skills . . . With the aid of dictionary Bounpheng Keobounam and Manisone Srisouvong decipher the English language.

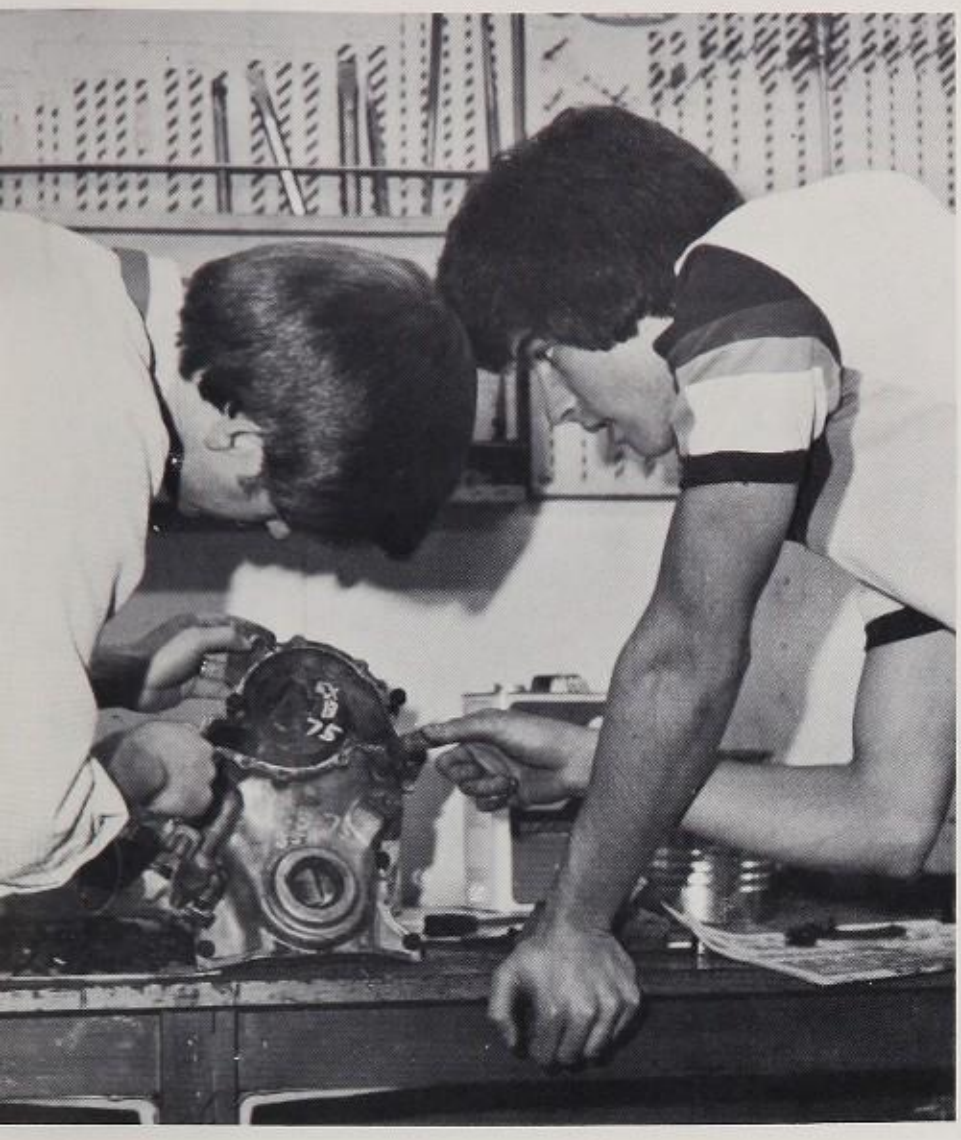
CLOCKWISE, ABOVE: Child services' student Kim Walruff adjusts the hat of one of her young charges . . . In his horticulture class Randy Delaughter nurtures his plant . . . With Brian Tracshel and Kevin Fogg looking on, Brian Wuitschuck works on an engine . . . Each year the construction cluster builds a house. Chris Hayes and Darrin Wilson do some landscaping work . . . Lisa Fossum seems to be having second thoughts as fellow medical career students Heather Mock and Tracy Nordlof apply splints to her arms and legs.

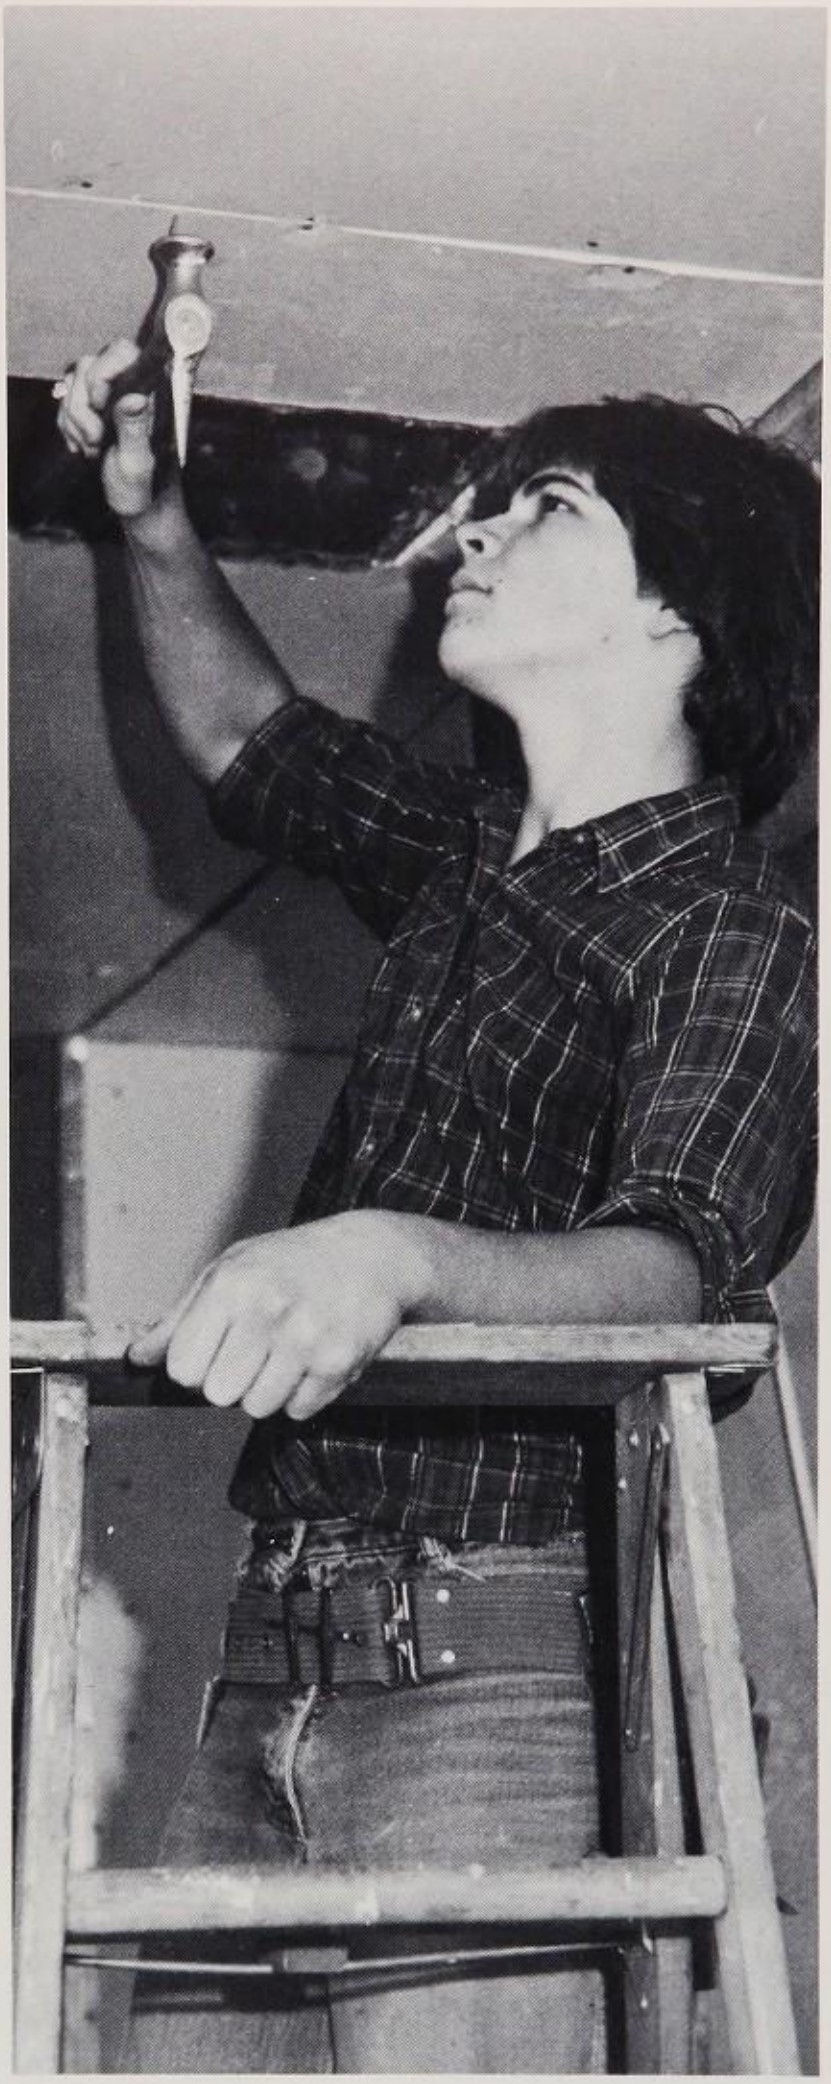
Clusters Offer Job Training

Career cluster courses offer an in-depth study of various occupations, providing the students with an opportunity to pursue a career in a specific field of work. Clusters meet daily for two periods and are worth two credits.

Clusters are offered in many areas. Business-minded Scots can enroll in accounting, clerical, or secretarial clusters. Industrial mechanics, industrial electronics, and construction classes are available for those who like to work with their hands. Aspiring doctors and nurses are offered the opportunity to gain experience in the Medical Careers cluster. Horticulture, child services, and food services are among the other clusters offered to students.

CLOCKWISE, RIGHT: Nicole Dryer bandages Louise Bendinelli's arm, one of her medical careers projects . . . Chris Gilbert seeks advice concerning his mechanics project from his teacher, Mr. Errol Maddox . . . With great accuracy, Matt Gilbert works to put sheetrock on the ceiling of the construction classes house . . . A food services class listens intently as a professional chef gives them a few words of advice . . . In her child services cluster Chellis Eastman entertains some preschoolers with blocks.





Drama, Stagecraft Enrich Scots

Drama classes give aspiring actors and actresses the preparation they need in order to perform on stage. Drama students learn acting and speaking techniques, read through famous plays, and do improvisations and pantomime.

Behind the scenes of every school play is the stagecraft class. Students in stagecraft learn to construct sets and coordinate lightning. In addition to this they are expected to work at least ten hours outside of class time on construction of school play sets.

Music Program Flourishes

David Douglas is fortunate to have an outstanding music program which gives young performers a chance to grow and express themselves through song. Band, orchestra, and choir are among the many music courses offered to students. A student can venture further into the world of music by enrolling in vocal jazz or stage band. These two classes meet before school.

In addition to playing in class, the music students must perform in numerous engagements throughout the year. This includes not only assemblies and concerts, but various community affairs. Many Scot musicians also perform in groups outside of school, including eighteen students who traveled to Salem for the all-state conference this year.

CLOCKWISE, LEFT: Cellist David Johnson practices his music for orchestra . . . Bart Allen and Shawn Villhauer, members of the Vocal Jazz Ensemble, find singing to be an enjoyable past-time . . . Mr. Larry Morrell directs the senior band at their Christmas concert . . . Anxiously awaiting their turn to sing, Lisa Marie Monnie and Kim Kalapus join forces with the stage band in order to prepare for the talent show.

Inexperienced Journalists Produce Celtic

Each year the Celtic staff is faced with the complex task of producing the school annual. This involves much energy and cooperation as well as responsibility. Each person is assigned one section of the yearbook. The staff members select pictures from proof sheets and have them printed to fit the layout which they have designed. Then they write copy and cutlines for each page. The students also pick the cover design, type style, and divider page style.

This year's Celtic staff was very inexperienced, due to the fact that none of the students had ever taken yearbook before. However, they proved themselves to be capable of learning quickly and working hard.

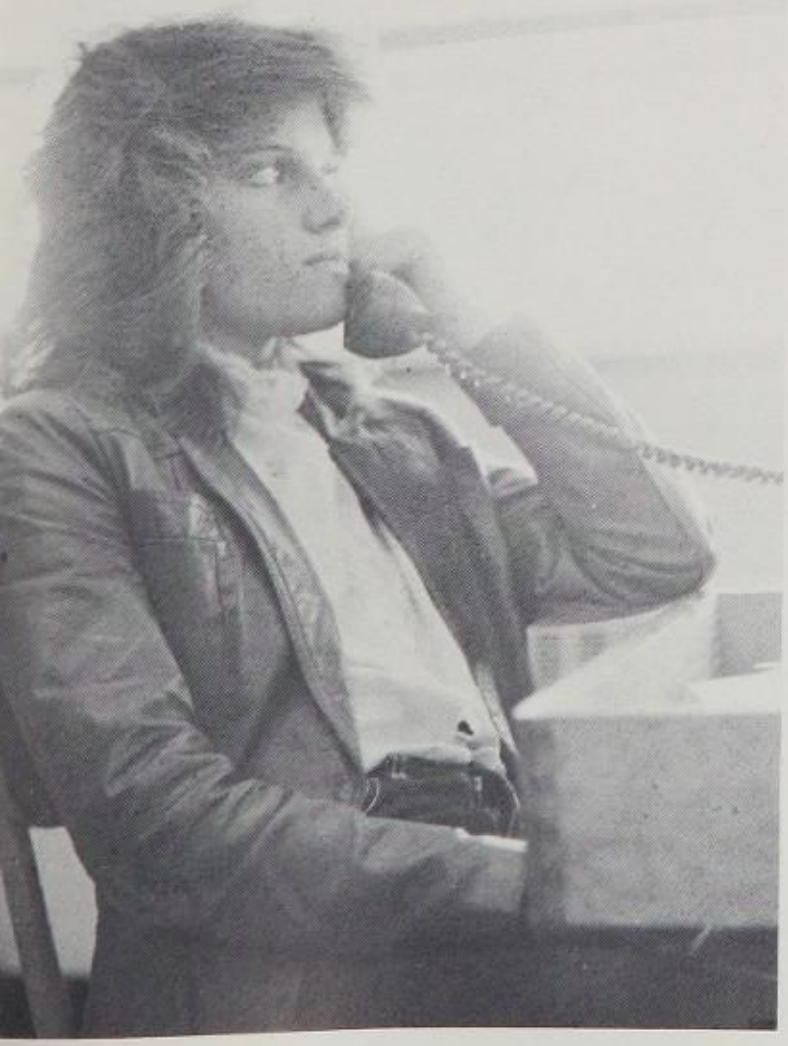
Dedication Is Key to Quality Paper

Under the capable leadership of co-editors Darcy Deibele and Diana Elliott, a crew of skilled and dedicated workers made this year's Highlander both interesting and informative. Combining their efforts, the students wrote, typed, and pasted until the paper was completed. This year was capped by a trip to San Francisco in April to attend a journalism conference.



CLOCKWISE, LEFT: Advertising manager Lucy Trogen sells ads over the phone . . . Kim Kalapus checks over her layout for the last time . . . Kelly Leer wearily completes the paste-up process . . . Precise measurements are extremely important when one cuts copy, as Diana Elliott knows . . . A puzzled Danette Stuper consults Mrs. Elaine Murphy, the newspaper advisor.

Scots Prepare for Future

Business education courses prove helpful to many students, not just to those seeking a career in secretarial or accounting lines of work. Such courses as typing, shorthand, accounting are valuable tools which can be used in later years.

Speech is another useful class in preparing a student for the future. In speech a student learns to develop his writing skills as well as overcome his fear of speaking in front of a large audience. Speech is a required class for most students who plan to continue on to college.

PE Serves as Outlet for Stress

For many students PE is a welcome break from the monotony of schoolwork. After being in a crowded classroom all day one needs a chance to work off his pent-up energy.

David Douglas currently offers what is known as "arena scheduling" in the PE department. This system gives a student the opportunity to enroll in a three week course, or arena, of his choice. Each gym teacher is in charge of a different arena. Courses range from team sports, such as basketball and hockey, to individual sports, like skating and aerobic dance. This scheduling gives a student the chance to become skilled in many different sports.

ACTIVITIES

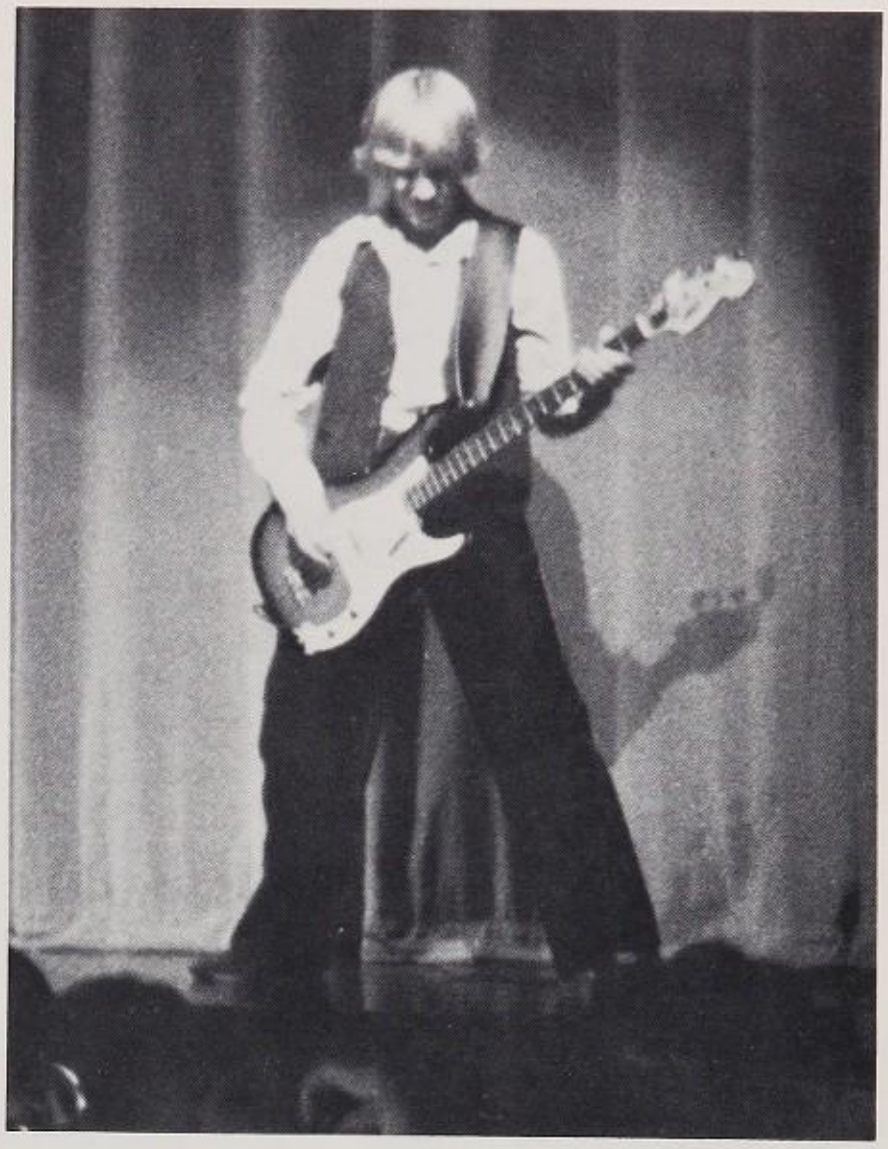
Scots Display Varied Talents

The music department's talent show, "Live at Douglas," offered students a chance to display their talents. These talents ranged from music, singing, dancing, to comic skits.

Dance numbers were preformed by the Tams; also Alana Taylor, Theresa Gardner, and Chris Olsen danced to "All that Jazz." The vocal jazz ensemble were on hand to sing old Beatles hits.

The evening was fun filled with various entertainment; well worth the money spent to see such fine preformances.

CLOCKWISE, LEFT: David Karstens, accompanied by Mike Boell, fiddles away to the delight of the audience . . . Several numbers were offered by the vocal jazz ensemble . . . Jeff Swanson and his guitar proved to be a popular act . . . Alumni Robin Oge lends his piano talents to the vocal efforts of Jenni Moore . . . The orchestra also played a key role in the evening's festivities.



Scot Spirit Keys Exciting Week

"Comin' At Ya!," set the theme of the 1981 Homecoming, involving students wearing costumes over a full week of daily activities. Clothes ranged from western grab to punk rock attire. Samia Azar reigned over the week's activities along with her court consisting of Kelly Conley, Lucy Trogen, Lisa Graham, Shelly Schrock, Lynette Hergert, Tammy Perlman, Kristi Wilcox, and Tina Terada.

Even with the loss of the Homecoming game to the Central Catholic Rams, Scot spirit shined, ending spirit week with fun and enthusiasm.

Scots Enjoy a Dogpatch Evening

"Lil Abner," set the theme for the annual girl-ask-boy dance. The freshman sponsored event involved students wearing casual clothes or dressing as hillbillies for the evening. Offered at the dance was a hitching post where the couples wishing to enter into "wedlock," assisted by "Reverend" Randy Brown. Other features included music by disc jockeys, pictures, and refreshments.

As the lights dimmed and the disc jockeys folded up their gear, the couples left with fond memories of the years Sadie Hawkins.

CLOCKWISE, BELOW: The refreshment table proved to be a welcomed oasis for the thirsty and hungry dancers . . . Several couples take time to pose a group picture . . . Paul Braunstein and Gina Severt wait at the head of the line to get hitched . . . The dance decorations were definitely Dogpatch motif . . . The dancers put in long but enjoyable hours on the dance floor . . . Cathy French and Ken Lounsbury share a private moment before returning to the dance floor.

Tams Perform "Rock-in '82"

A mixture of rock, jazz, ballet, and a "touch of punk" comprised the Tams' state dance routine — "Rock-in '82." The Tams competed in a total of five competitions this year, including one at Sam Barlow High School where they placed second and one here at David Douglas where they captured first place.

When not dancing in weekend competitions, the Tams performed at all of the home football games and most of the home basketball games. They also provided the half time entertainment during basketball games for local colleges.

The Tams were led this year by captain Lucy Trogen and co-captains Leanne Beall, Lisa Werstlein, and Tiffany Routt.

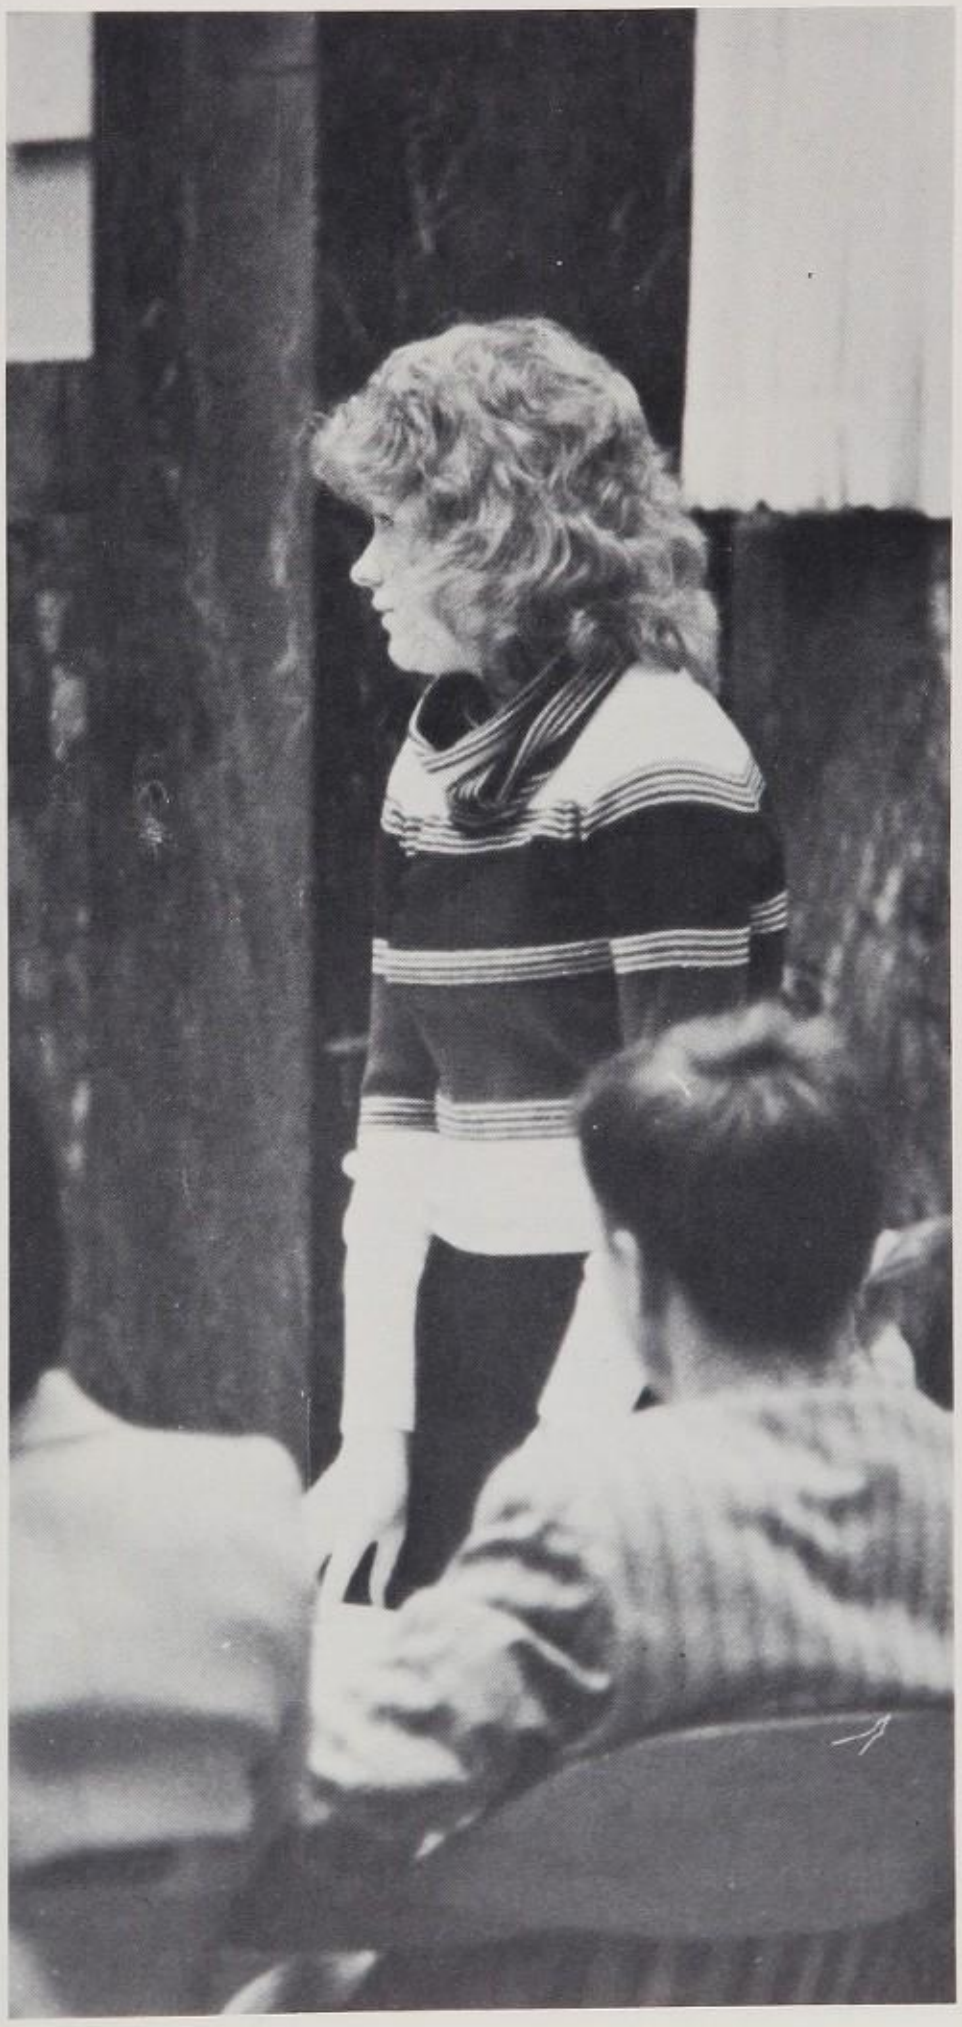
Student Lawyers Debate Cases

For the first time David Douglas was involved in the Mock Trial program, a nationwide competition which allows students to learn about courtroom procedure.

Each student has a roll to play. The students learn their part, then figure their strategy through research and thought. Real judges and attorneys act as "referees" during this special event.

In the tri-county area David Douglas placed highest of the ten new teams competing. Mr. Jim Etzkorn, advisor of the program, expects a promising team next year.

CLOCKWISE, BELOW: Erika Stuva objects to a comment made by the defense . . . "Detective" Paul Feller is questioned by defense attorney Ralph Chen . . . Awaiting the final verdict, Becky Pazler, Jean Lee, and Cheryl Montee attentively watch the trail . . . Shawn Vilhauer, alias "Thomas Hudson," testifies in his own defense.

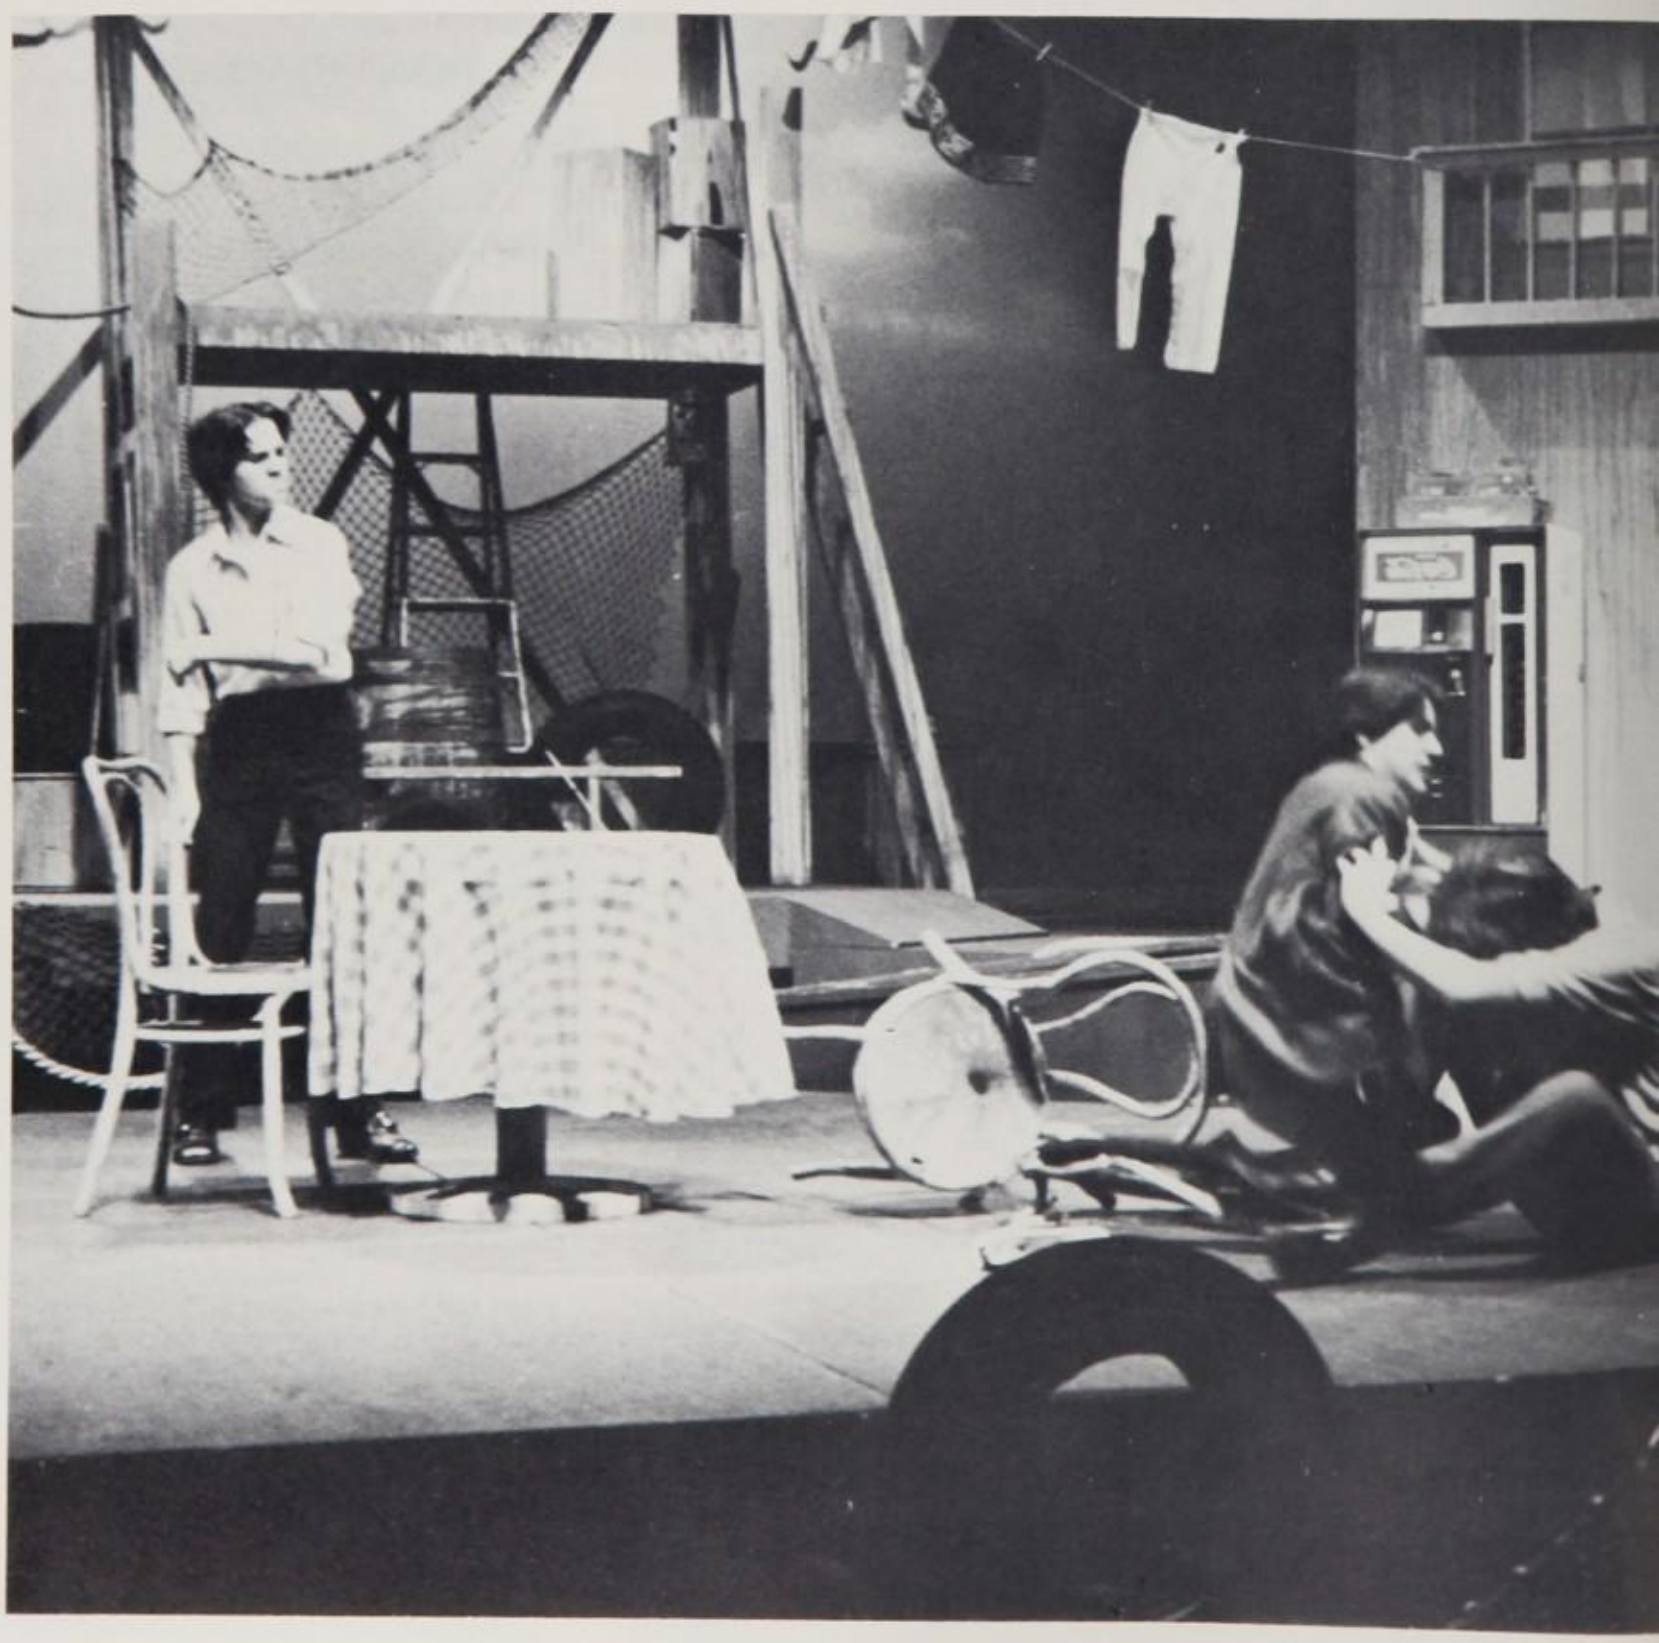


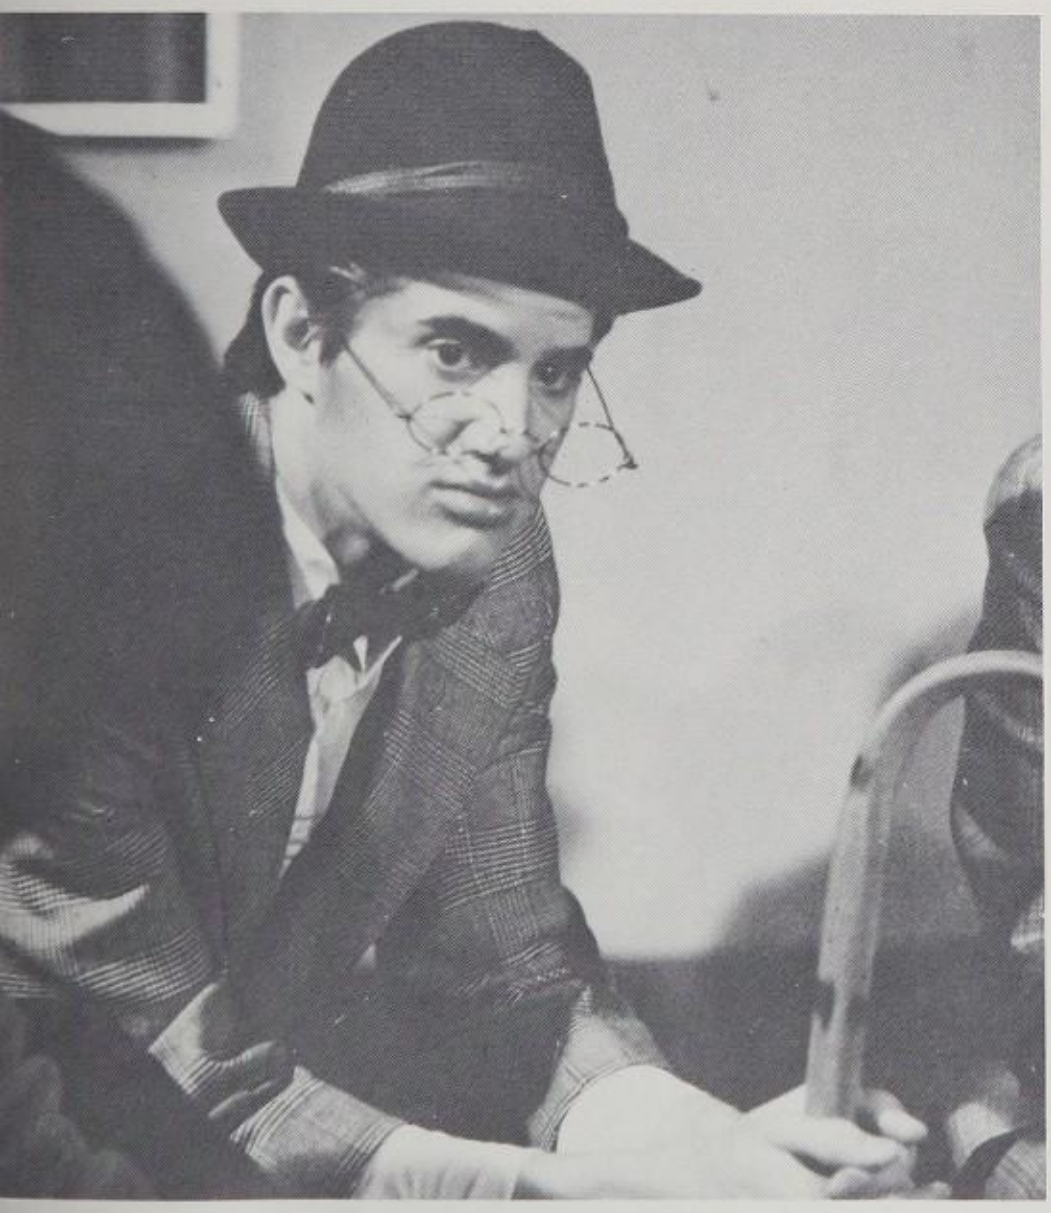
Miller, Thespians Star in "Scapino"

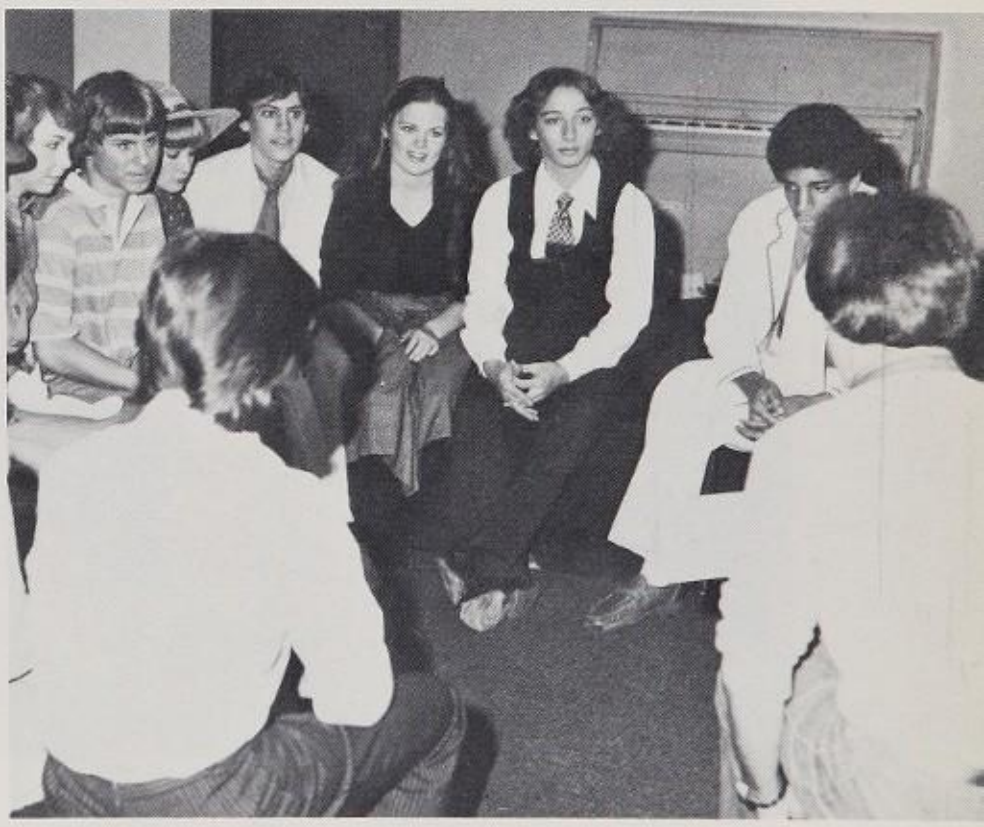
Starring Brian Miller in the title role and directed by student directors Liz Arnold and Tim Landerking, the romantic comedy, "Scapino" proved to be a great success.

The plot of the play revolved around the personality of the main character, Scapino, a renown con artist of the local village who is very clever at using his wits to persuade his friends to do his bidding. More often than not, however, his cleverness results in Scapino himself getting deeply enmeshed in the problems. But in the end all turns out well, and the rascal, Scapino, is forgiven for his meddling.

CLOCKWISE, ABOVE: Scapino (Brian Miller) plots his next move . . . Promising undying love, Attavia (Bart Allen) and Giacinta (Renee Peace) hold the audience's attention . . . Allen lends a helping hand to Sylvester (John Strand) and Miller . . . Allen delivers his soliloqe in the opening act . . . Waiter Jim Ford flirts with Kris Spangler as the plot begins to unfold.







The excitement builds as the cast receives final instructions and encouragement from Mr. Rick Zimmer before curtain time on opening night . . . Argante (David Spiegel) prepares himself to appear onstage . . . Waiters Nathan Bryant and Jim Ford battle it out as head waiter Jason Howard referees . . . Randy Brunelle gets into character . . . Carlo (Bob Cayson), Speigel, Renee Peace, and Bart Allen show their reactions to Scapino's death . . . Brian Miller almost escapes from Allen and David Gilbert.

One Act Plays Fill Winter Void

To occupy that long period of time between the fall play and the winter production, the drama department puts on a series of five one act plays each January.

The freshmen play this year, entitled "Morgan's Raid" was directed by Rene Peace and Kim Kalapus. David Gilbert directed the sophomore play, "Red Carnations." "A Likely Story" was the junior production. The senior dramatists performed "The Chinese Restaurant Syndrome." And the all school play called "The Patient," was directed by Bob Cayson.

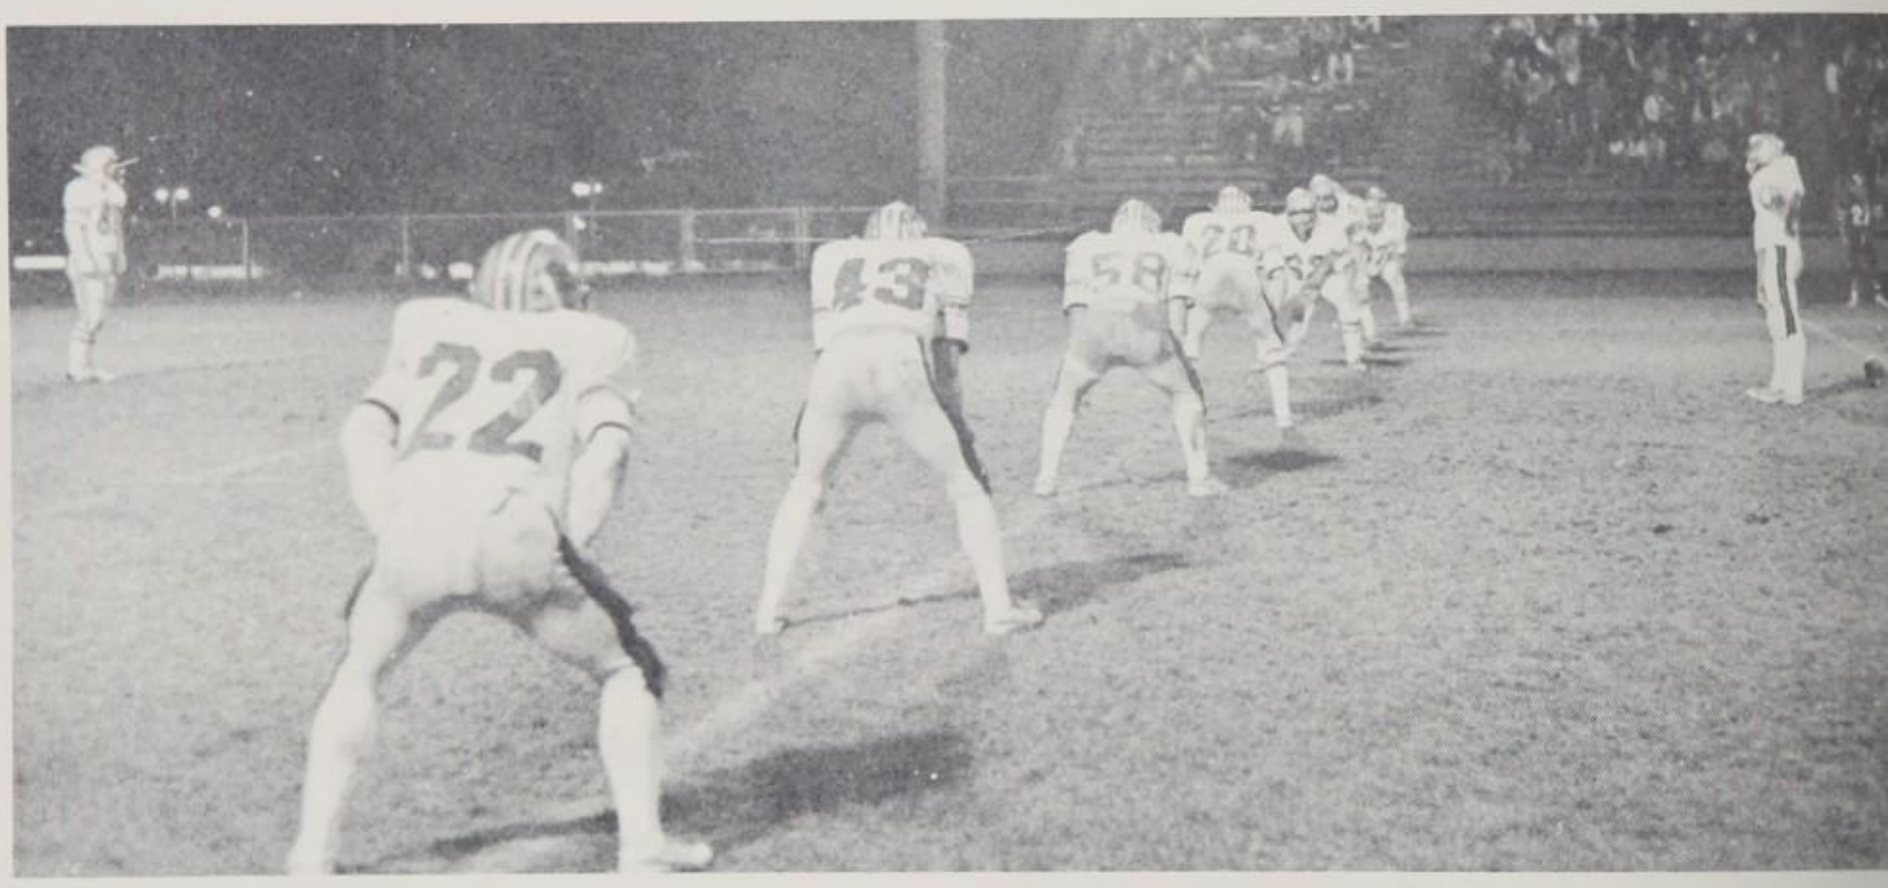
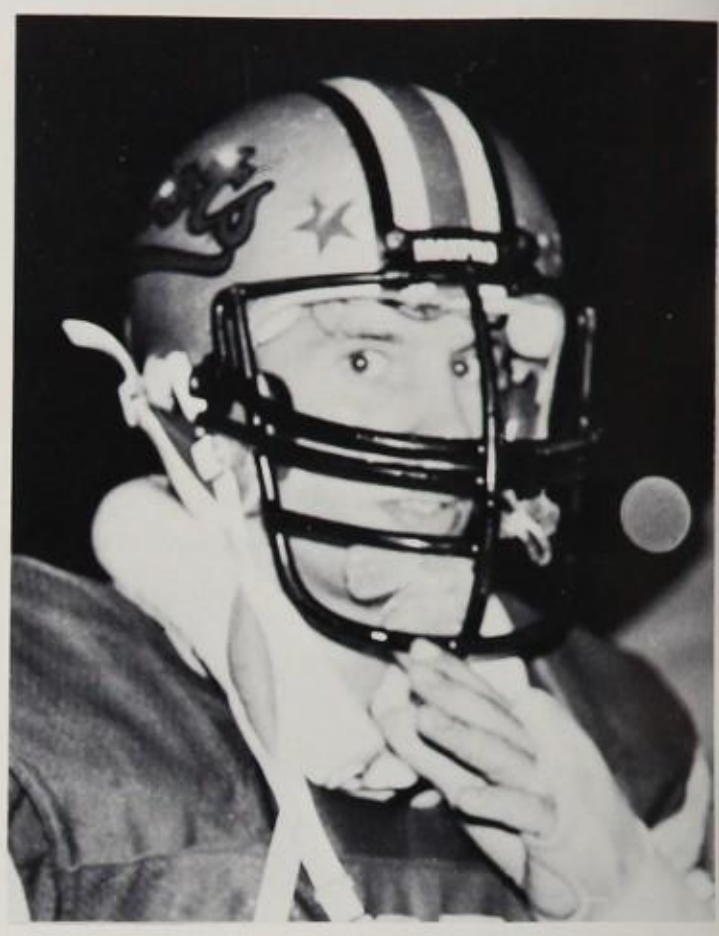
Chris Dahlen works out hard in practice as he prepares for the season . . . The Scots line up is ready for Burton's kickoff.



Football Fortunes Turned Around

Although the varsity football team finished the season with a winless record, the Scotsmen put forth an outstanding effort. Co-captains Pat Wreath and Bill George both agreed that "although we weren't successful in our win-loss record, we did succeed in turning the program around. The team is headed in the right direction."

One outstanding member of the team was Chris Dahlen, who not only achieved the honor of Athlete of the Month, but also made the first team All-Metro in football. All-Metro honorable mentions went to Wreath, George, Dan Brant, Dale Terhune, and Jim Murray.



CLOCKWISE, RIGHT: Captain Pat Wreath anxiously watches for the next play . . . Terry Delaney kicks another punt while the opposition tries to block . . . A Scot leaps high in the air to return the ball . . . Hard hitter Debbie Dick spikes the ball to Kristi Wreath in a J.V. scrimmage game . . . Wyatt offers up another serve to the opposition.

Seniors Lead Scot Spikers

The Scot volleyball team captured second place in the Metro League to end their fine 8-6 season. Coach Jane Miller said, "This was a result of the team's unified and well rounded talents." The squad had a great deal of leadership in spirit and skills from seniors Anita Wyatt, Andi Bittleston, Jo Ann Konno, and Michelle Nelson. All of the girls worked well together and the unity showed in their playing skills and record.

Nelson was named to the first team All-Metro, while Wyatt made second team All-Metro. Honorable Mention was awarded to Konno, Bittleston, Deanna Jones, and Julie Waage.

CLOCKWISE, BELOW: John Shin rushes in on an open ball . . . Showing his dribbling skills, Shin outmaneuvers his opponents . . . Demonstrating a chip shot, freshman Dan Sargent shows his skill to teammate Robert May . . . Jeff Seto eagerly watches as the game progresses . . . Scott King (7) runs to aid a teammate in trouble.

Skill and Style Assist Team

Highlighting their best season in two years, the Scot boys soccer team lost to eventual State champ Beaverton by only two points. Two important members of the squad were Mark Stine and Marco Monteblanco, whose advanced skills and spectacular styles were an asset to the team. Kenny Shin, a mid-field player on the team, said, "The team really tried hard and improved with each game."

The underclass soccer programs got off to a slow start because of lack of players. Later in the season, the teams obtained the needed players and were able to work on developing their skills. Newcomers from other countries contributed immensely to the squad.

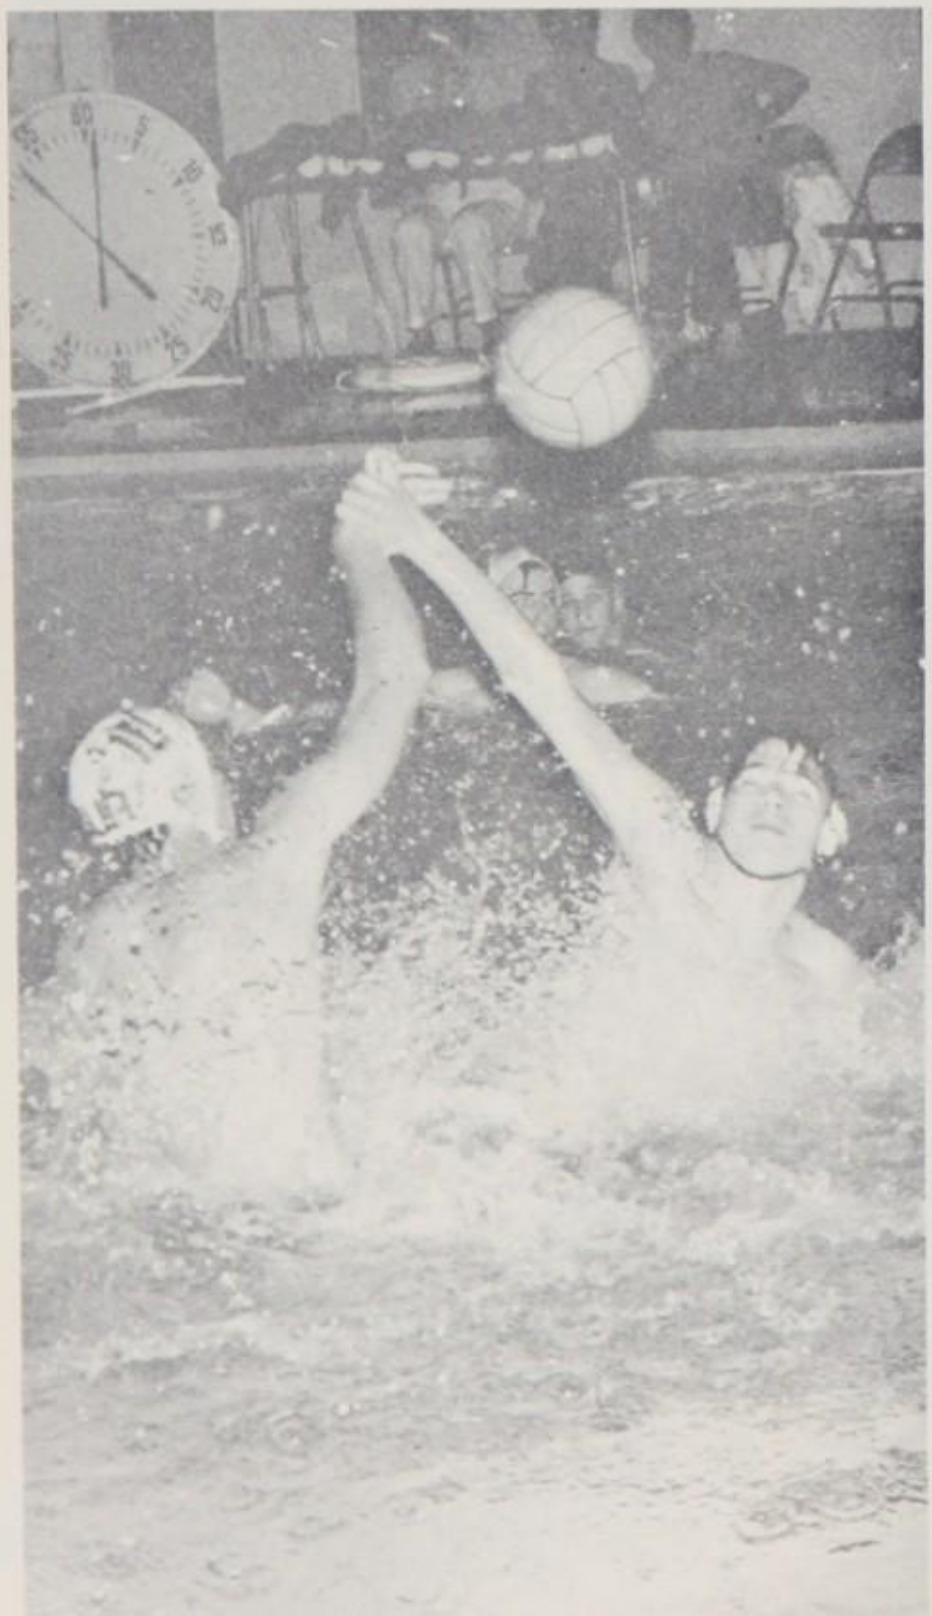
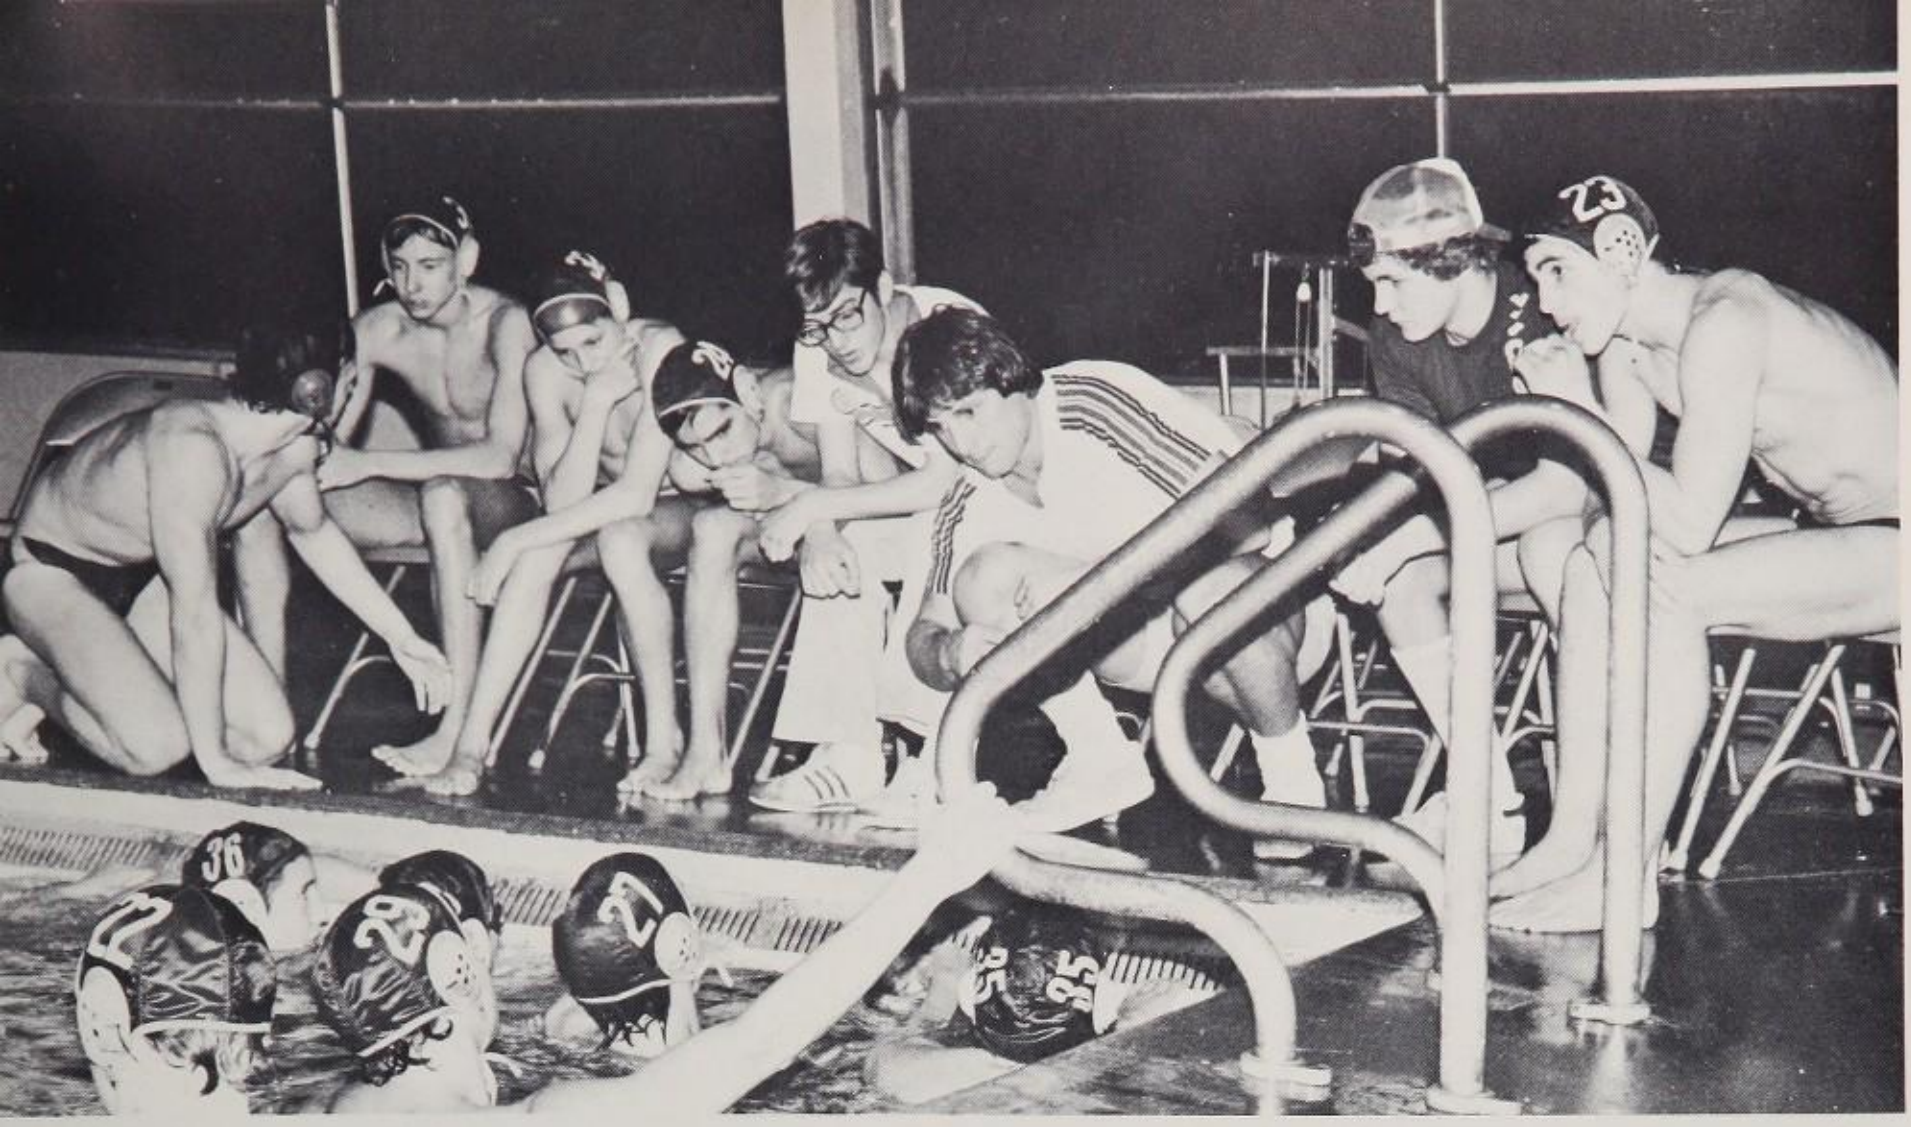
Yoder's Goal Highlights Season

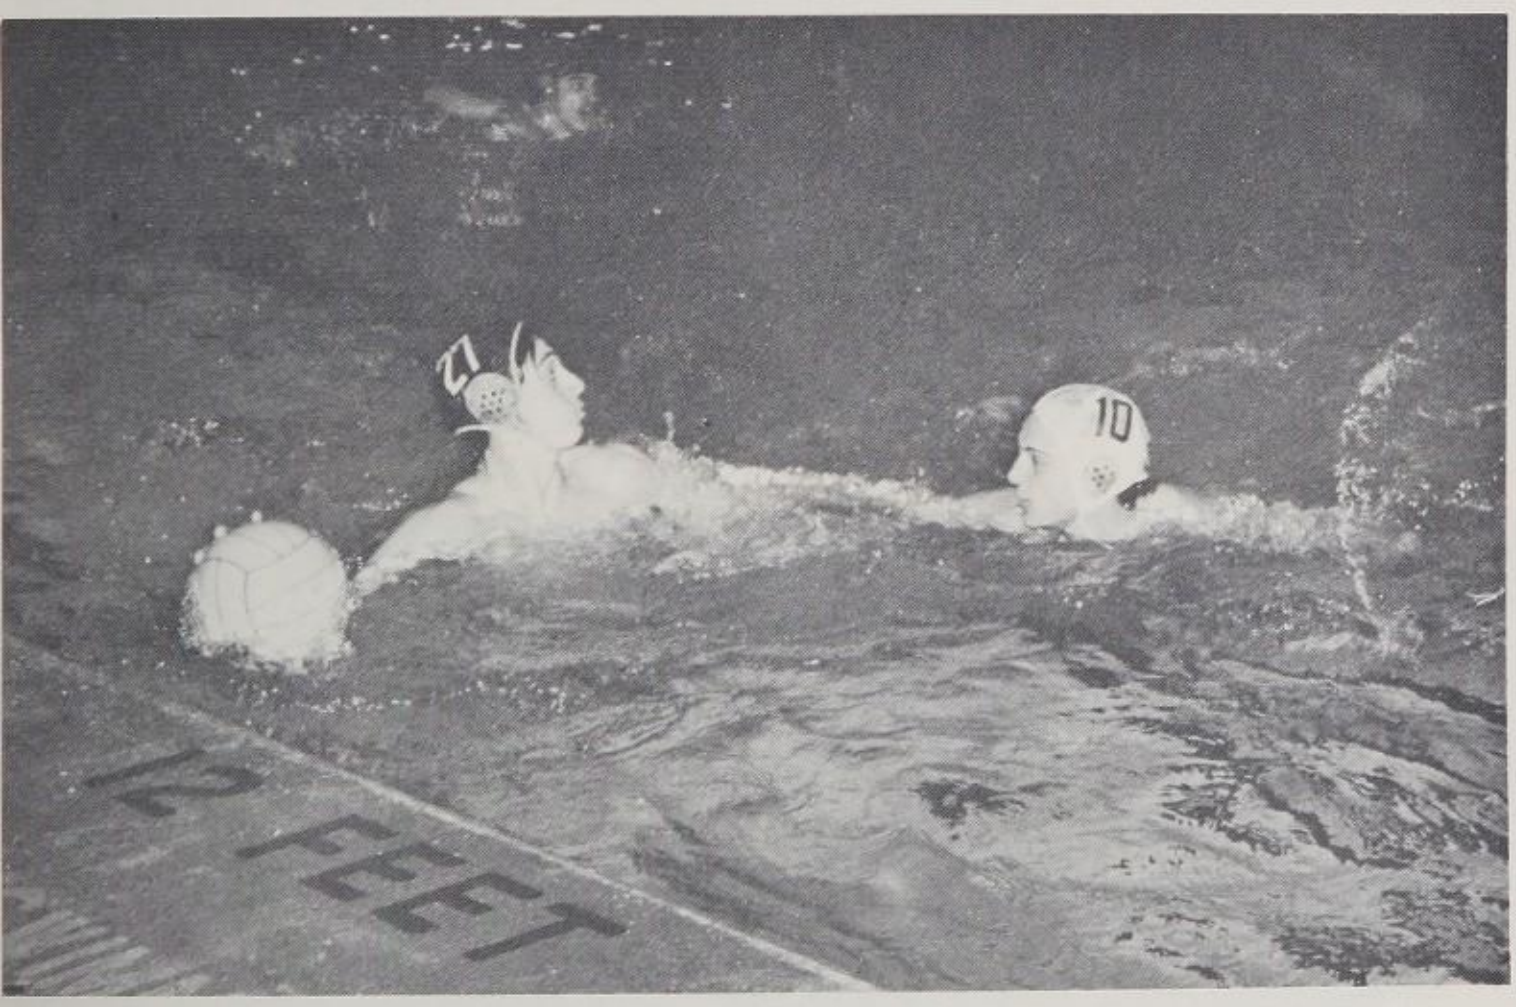
The girls' soccer team improved greatly over the past year. The girls worked well together, making the best of the tough season. Brenda Yoder scored the only goal during the season and was one of the better players, along with Debbie Blakesly and Cathy Frey. Co-captains Millie Layman and Alicia Newton kept the squad on its toes working hard, playing well, and showing enthusiasm toward the game.

Poloists Show Gallant Effort

The boys water polo team captured the second place trophy at State with a gallant effort. The Scots were undefeated into the final game, but Gresham came through the losers bracket to beat the Scots. Led by junior co-captains Carl Tuma and Tony Garcia, the Scots will be looking for the State title next year. Coach Roy Clark stated the boys have a lot of depth and can be expected to do well in the coming years. Losing only seniors, Randy Miller and Jeff Kercham, the boys should be a powerhouse next year.







CLOCKWISE, ABOVE: All-State player Carl Tuma looks for an open man . . . Erik Davenport drives hard for the goal as he attempts to up the score . . . In the struggle for the ball, Davenport appears to commit a foul . . . An excellent block by goalie Mark Proudfoot saves another score by the opposition . . . Captain Tony Garcia (23) and his fellow team members listen closely to Coach Clark's instructions.

Girls' Polo Captures Third

Led throughout the season by co-captains Ruth Anne Lorys and Tracy Nordlof, the David Douglas girls water polo team finished their outstanding season with an 8-2 record.

At the state meet the team garnered third place. Spectacular performances by Lorys, Gina Jaha, and Ruth Lorentsen were rewarded by All-State team selections. All-Metro team members included Jaha, Lori Wheeler, Patricia and Ruth Anne Lorys. The girls are looking forward to an excellent season next year.

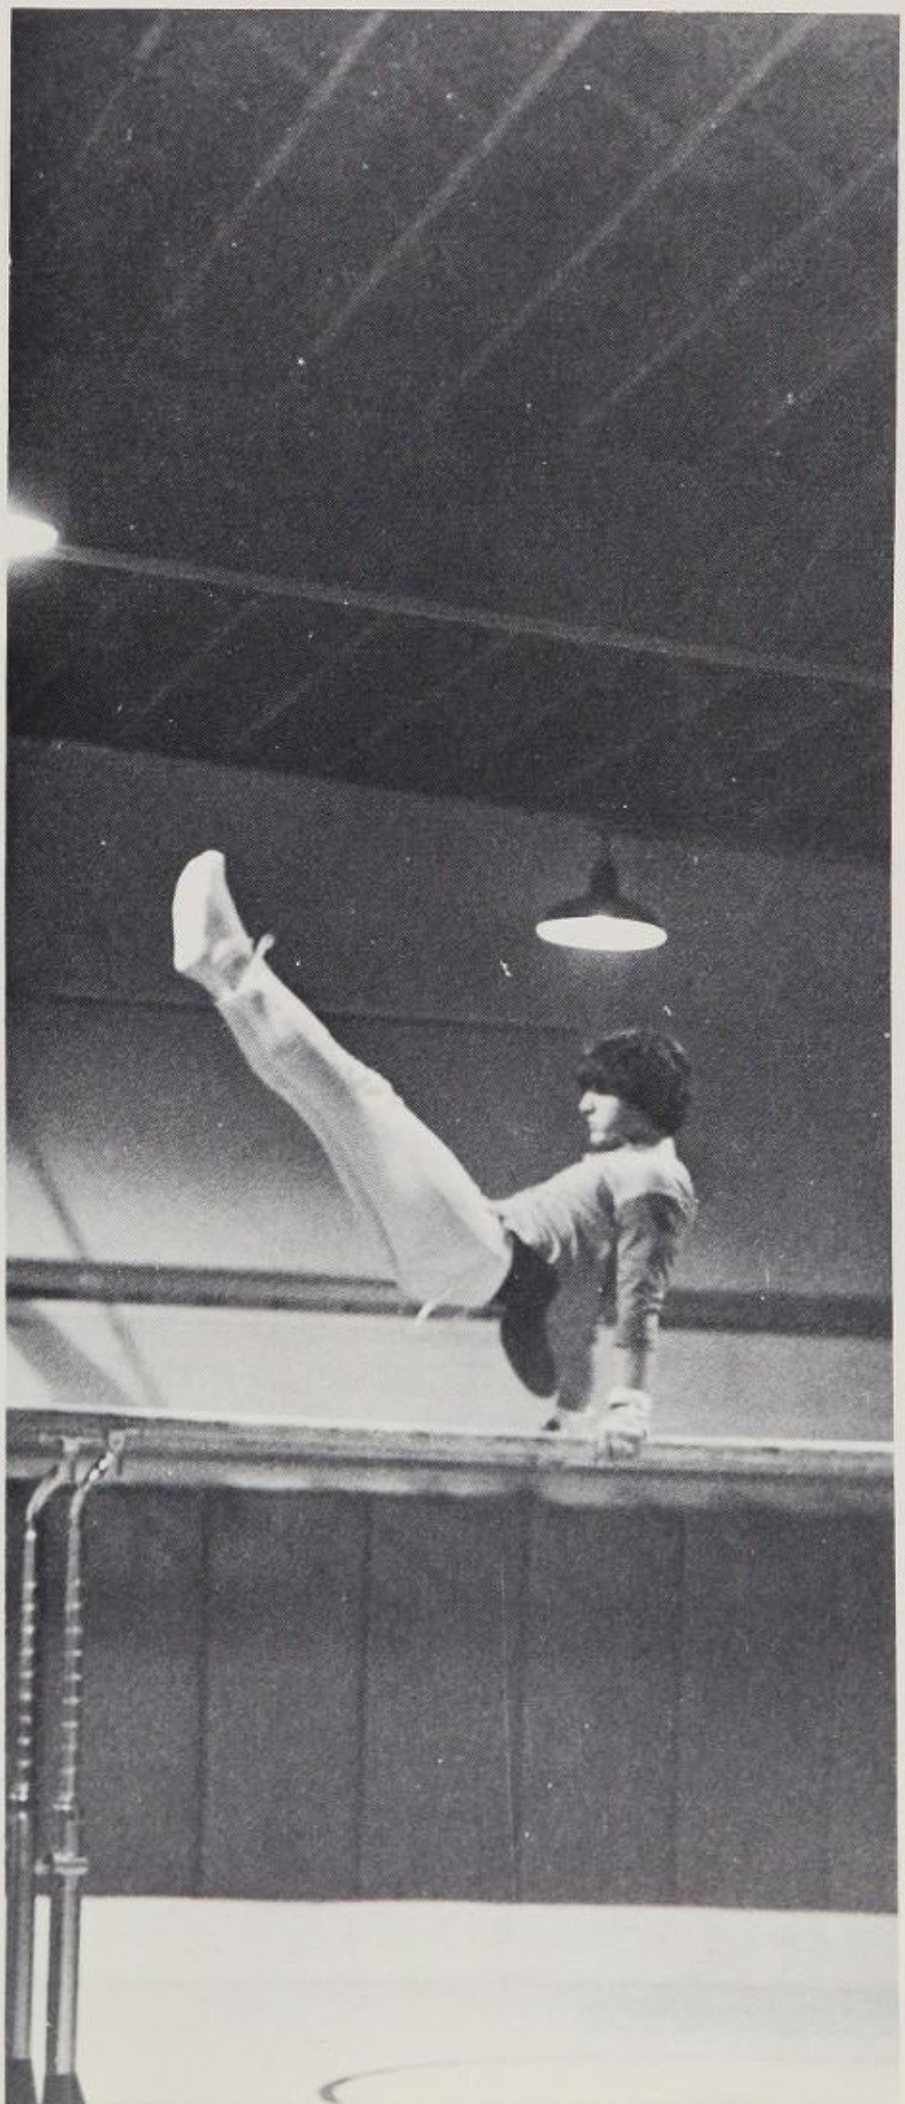
Oliver Injured Before State

With only two losses during the season, the boys gymnastics team was prepared for the State meet. A bitter disappointment came as co-captain Rob Oliver suffered an injury days before the meet. It was a great let down to Oliver, who was in top form for the meet.

At State co-captain Fred Rawlins and Bob Scruggs made it to finals. Rawlins placed in the vault and floor exercise, helping him to win eighth place all-around. Scruggs placed in the top eight in high bar and captured ninth place all-around.

CLOCKWISE, BELOW: Shawn Vilhauer practices late hours after school in order to achieve perfection . . . Fred Rawlins demonstrates his superb talents on the rings, keeping a steady pose even under the pressure of competition . . . A group of gymnasts relax between events . . . State finalist Bob Scruggs concentrates on his difficult routine . . . With a look of determination Scott Wilson springs to the vault.



Gymnasts Reach State Meet

The girls' gymnastics team finished their season with more total points than any past girls gymnastics team from David Douglas. The girls had a terrific season, placing second at the District gymnastics meet. Two girls, Cari Baker and Angela Fouquette, qualified for State and performed well at the meet.

At the sports banquet Baker received the awards for the most outstanding and the most valuable gymnast. Leslie Tunks received the most inspirational award, and most improved honor went to Sue Logsdon.

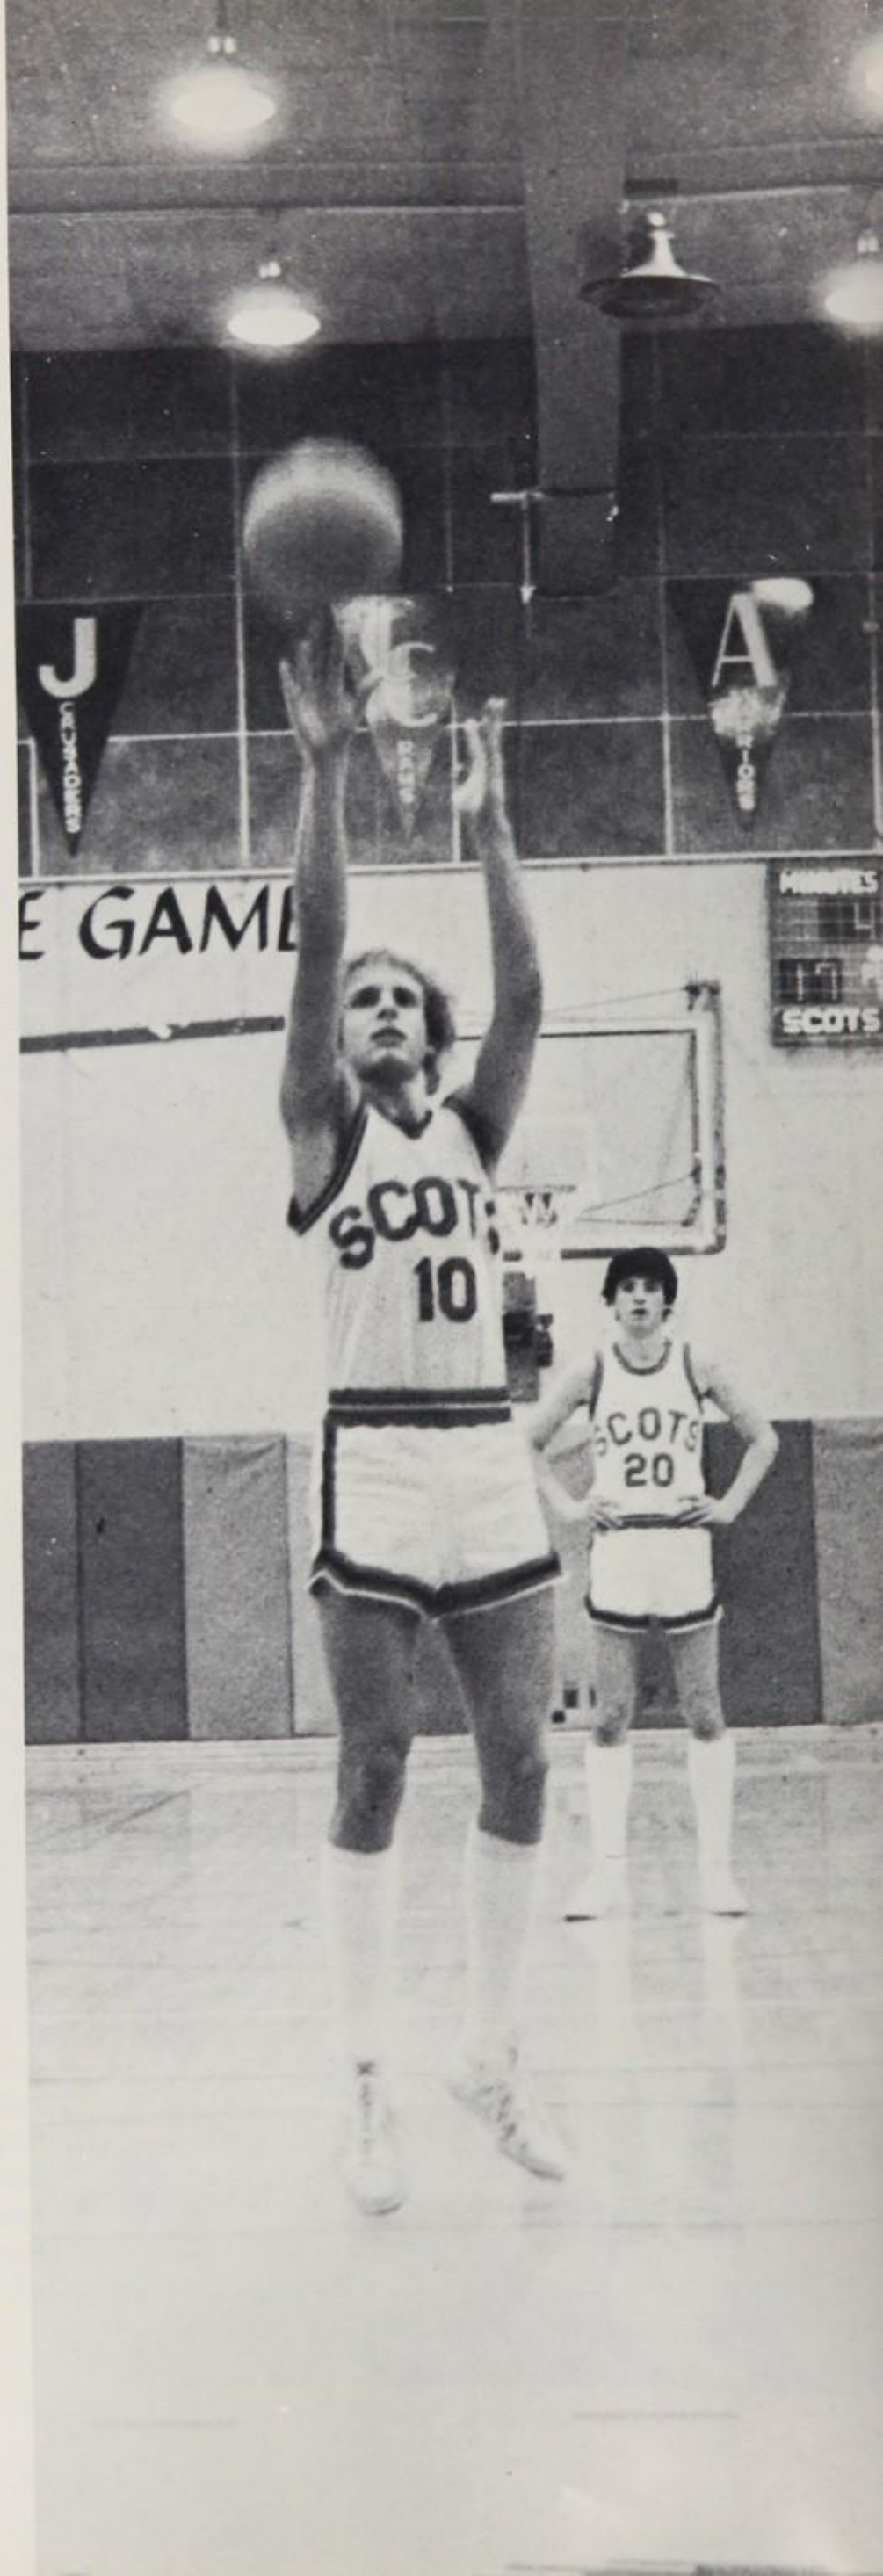
Runners See Hope for Future

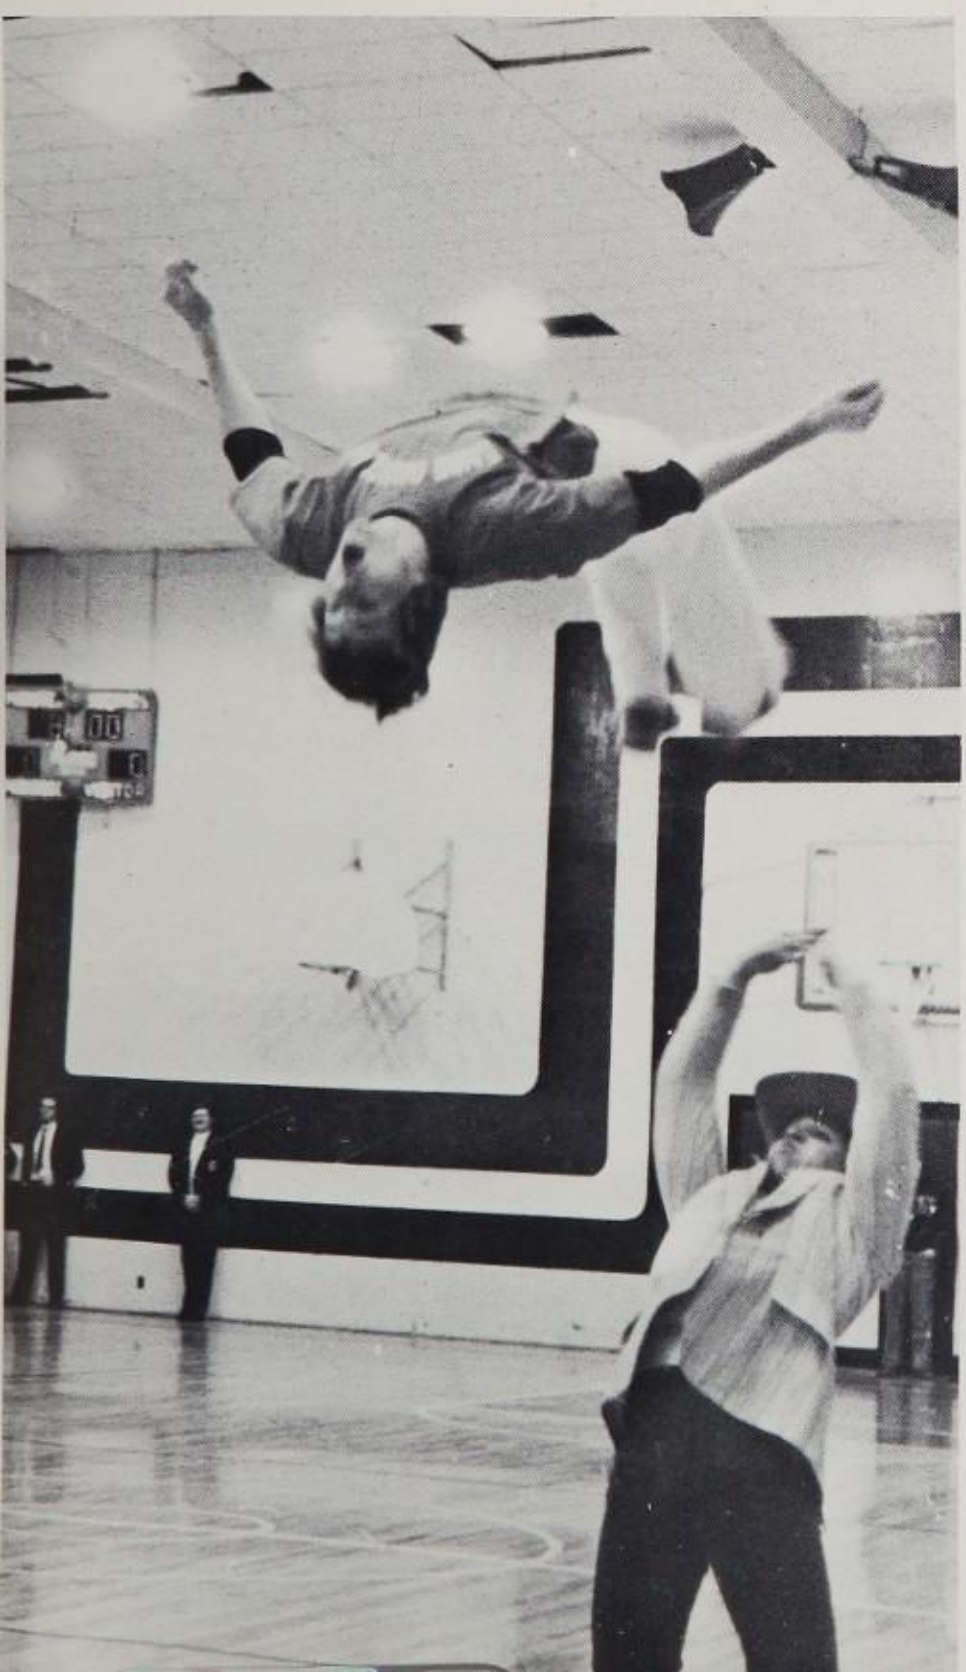
Another disappointing season plagued the Scot boys cross country team. Although the team only had a 1-10 record, all of the meets were close, and many personal goals were met. Key runners for the team were senior Fred Walenciak and Brad Foote and Paul Sullivan, both sophomores, who have lit the way for a bright future in boys cross country.

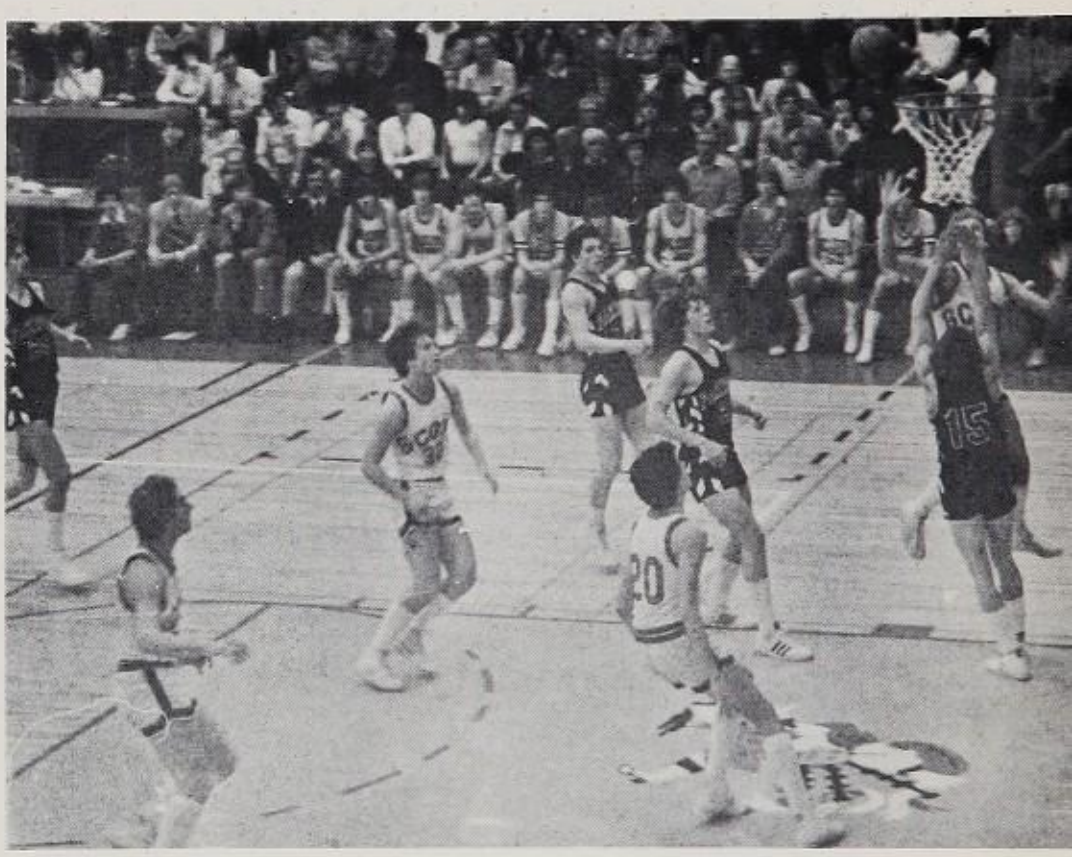
The girls cross country team achieved a 6-5 record and the fourth place title in the Metro League meet where runners Diana Roberts and Debbie Dollens showed outstanding efforts. Cyndi Czeluscinski was a key runner early in the season before an injury kept her from participating to her full ability. Frosh Cammi Gustafson showed promise for a good future in cross country running. All of the runners were important in producing one of the best season in recent years.

Scots Capture Tourney Berth

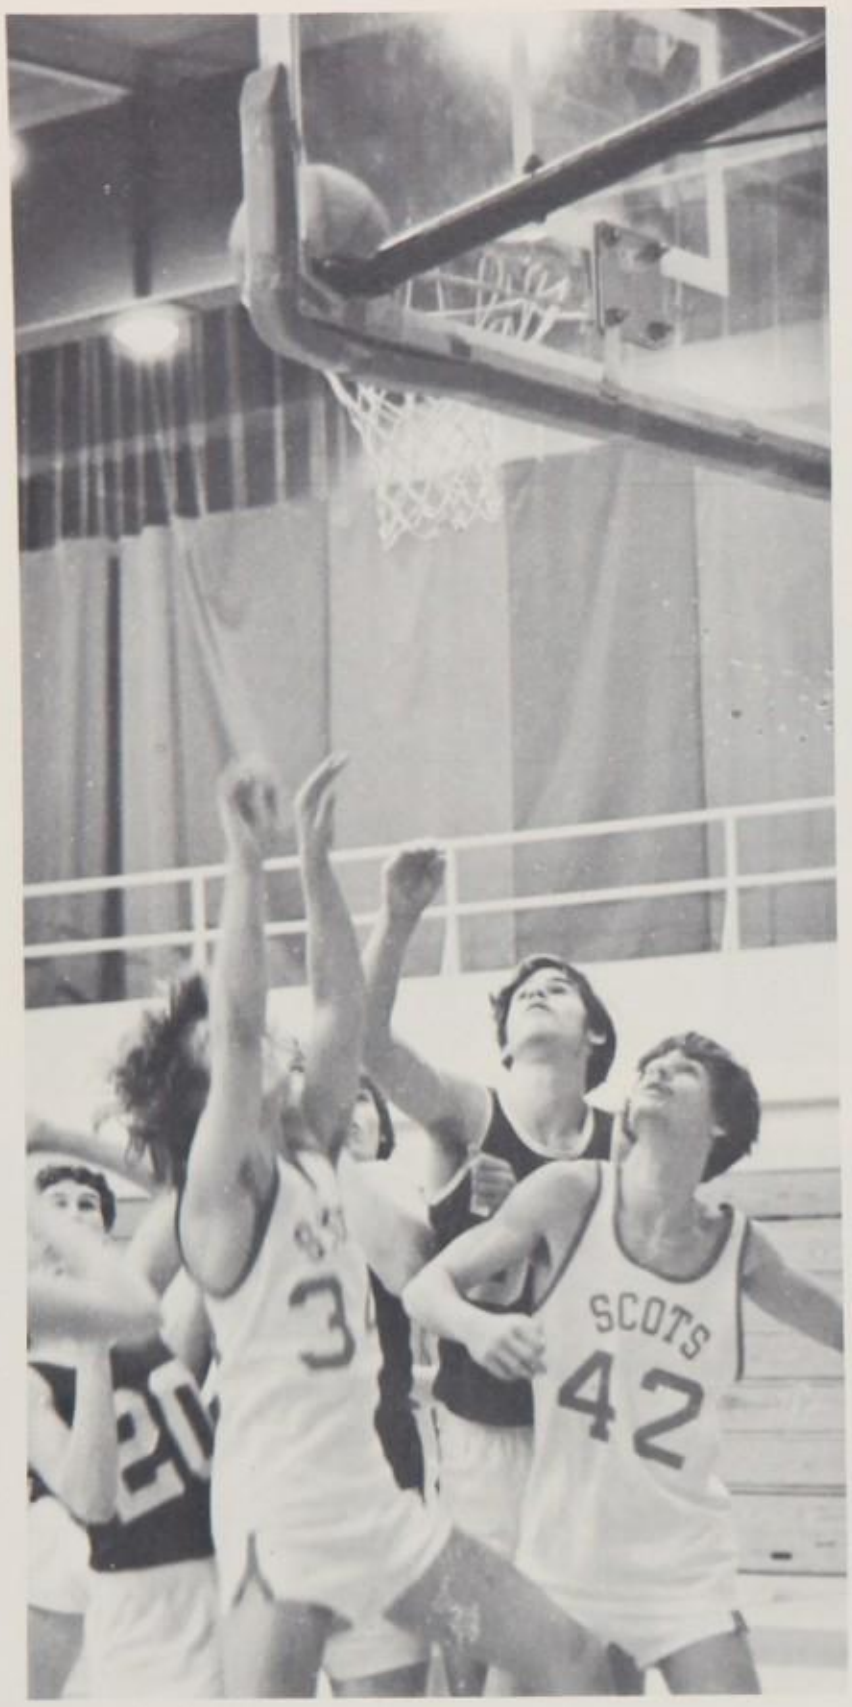
Although the varsity boys' basketball team got off to a slow start, the squad came back to finish their season with a respectable 12-9 record and a spot in the State playoffs. The team won their first game against Labannon in the playoffs by 13 points. However, the Scots tourney bid got nipped by South Eugene, 62-49. "We had a satisfying season," remarked senior Tracy Cleys. Captain Desmond Harper was an All-Metro selection while John Eckert, Mark Nelson, and Chris Dahlen received honorable mention awards.







CLOCKWISE, LEFT: An anticipated event at every basketball game was Dave Waage and Bob Oliver enthusiastically showing their team spirit . . . One of the leading Scot free-throwers, Desmond Harper, racks up another point for the Scots . . . Marc Jacobson raises his arms to block yet another Parkrose pass . . . Breaking from a huddle, the determined Scots are ready for another quarter . . . Harper scores another point as the team prepares for a rebound.



CLOCKWISE, ABOVE: Mark Ragan (42) watches for a rebound as his teammate puts the ball up for two more points . . . Looking good, John Jaha confidently shoots his freethrow . . . As if one isn't enough, Jaha shoots again . . . Putting their hands together, the frosh team is ready to play. Coached by Mr. Tim Hurley, the squad showed great enthusiasm . . . In perfect form, Anthony Roberts easily performs a lay up.

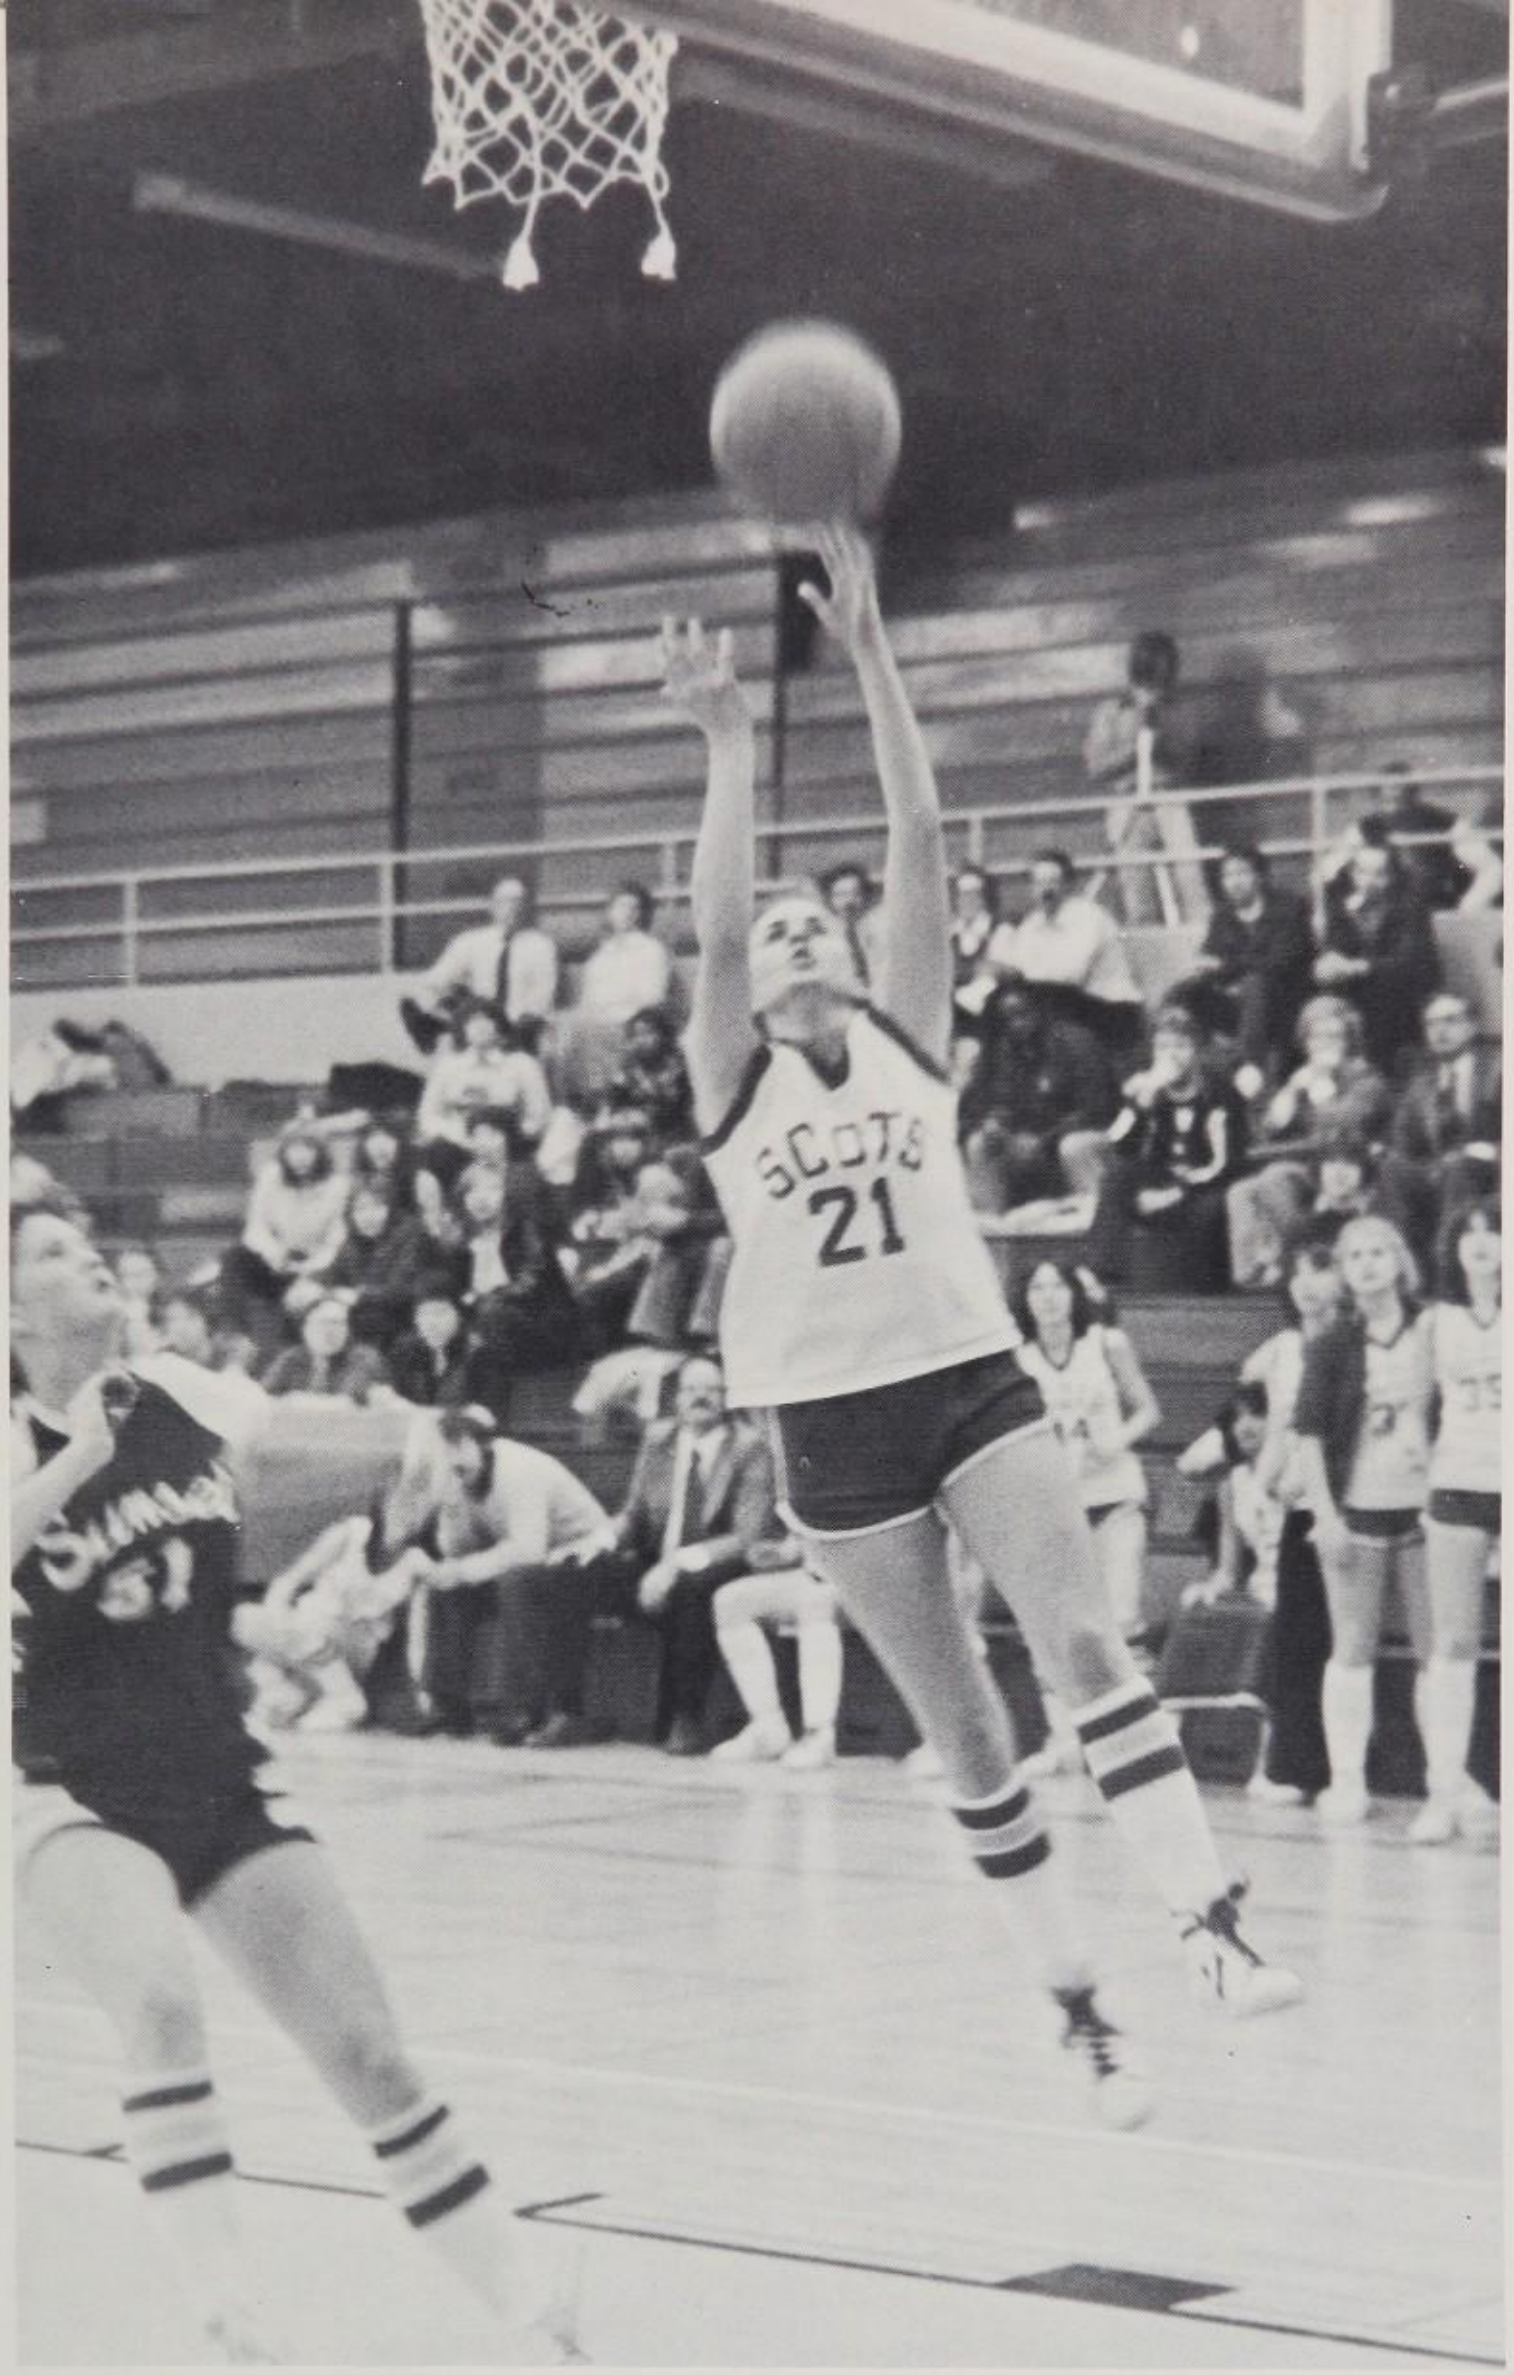
JV Team Attains a Fine Reord

The J.V. cagers closed their season with a win against Aloha, bringing their record to 13-6. Coached by Mr. Stan Woodfill, the boys had a reputation of being the best all around team in the Metro League. "We shouldn't have lost the games we did. We were just hit with some bad luck," says John Jaha. Exceptional players were Jaha, Curt Lind, and Terry Olson.

The freshman red and gray teams had less luck. Although the squads had disappointing seasons, several of the members showed potential, including Brent Gallenger, Mike Lamb Tyrin Cooke, Todd Burke, Marty Valley, Jerry Neubert, Dean Loveland, and Scott Simon.

Hanley, Bittleston Lead Hoopsters

Led by captains Dawn Hanley and Andrea Bittleston, the varsity girls' basketball team finished the season with a winning record. Hanley was the leading scorer on the team and was also named to the first team All Star Metro League squad. The girls were second in the Metro League the first half of the season, but lost several close ones in the second half to narrowly miss making the State playoffs. Returning varsity players will be Julie Waage, Teresa Rictor, and Diana Bowlin. There are also many good prospects coming up from the J.V. team, so the future looks very bright.



CLOCKWISE, LEFT: Yelling encouragingly, the varsity girls support their teammates on the court. The girls switch off starting, so as not to get too tired . . . Co-captain Dawn Hanley listens intently to Coach Lee Weaver's game plan . . . "Try to catch me," says Janelle Dale as she races past the Sunset players . . . An effortless lay-up by Krista Sorrels brings the bench to their feet.

JV-Frosh Post Great Records

The J.V. girls' basketball team finished their season with only two losses. Coached by Mr. Bill Haller, the squad showed many prospects for the varsity team next year. The "Swingers" who switched from J.V. to varsity were Suzy Nelson, Deanne Dominic, Christi Wreath, and Amy Weaver. At the Winter Sports Banquet Debra Dick was voted Most Improved and Cindy Fort received the Best Attitude award.

Coached by Mrs. Debbie Bartlow, the frosh girls, although plagued by injuries and sickness, had a 12-6 record. The team had many exciting games and pulled out a close one against Pointer by 2 points. Outstanding players on the team were Jackie Hawe, Nanette Bowlin, Katie Molik, Leslie Walden, Angie Hergert, and Connie Jannsen.

Varsity Boys Capture State

With an undefeated record the boys swim team went all the way to capture the State title. The team sent more boys to State this year than any previous year. To psych for the meet, all of the boys shaved their heads. "The sacrifice was worth it," says team member Matt Rankin. The State team included Carl Tuma, Tony Garcia, Ricky Vail, Dan Berry, Marc Proudfoot, Eric Davenport, Randy Miller, Mark and Matt Rankin. All of the Scotsmen who swam at State, except for Miller, will be returning next year to defend their title.

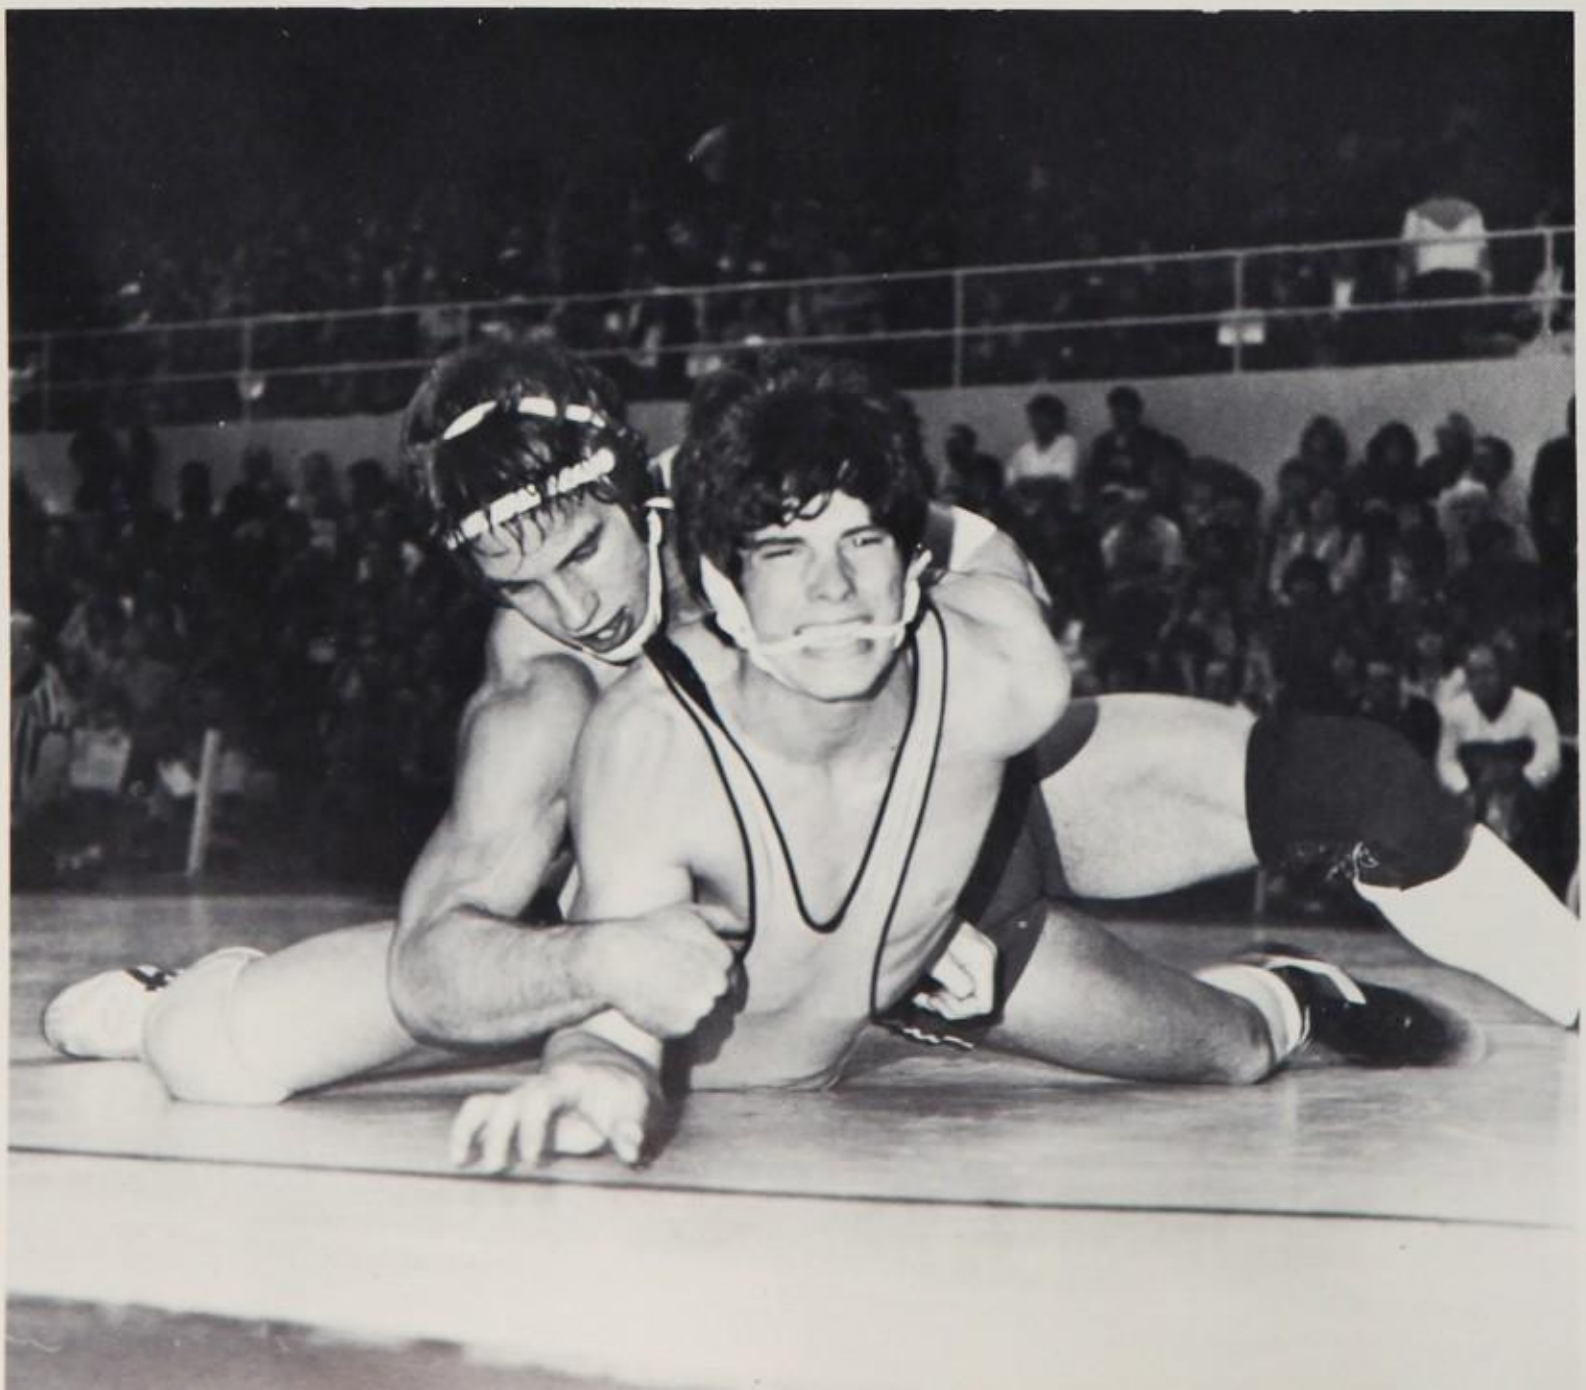
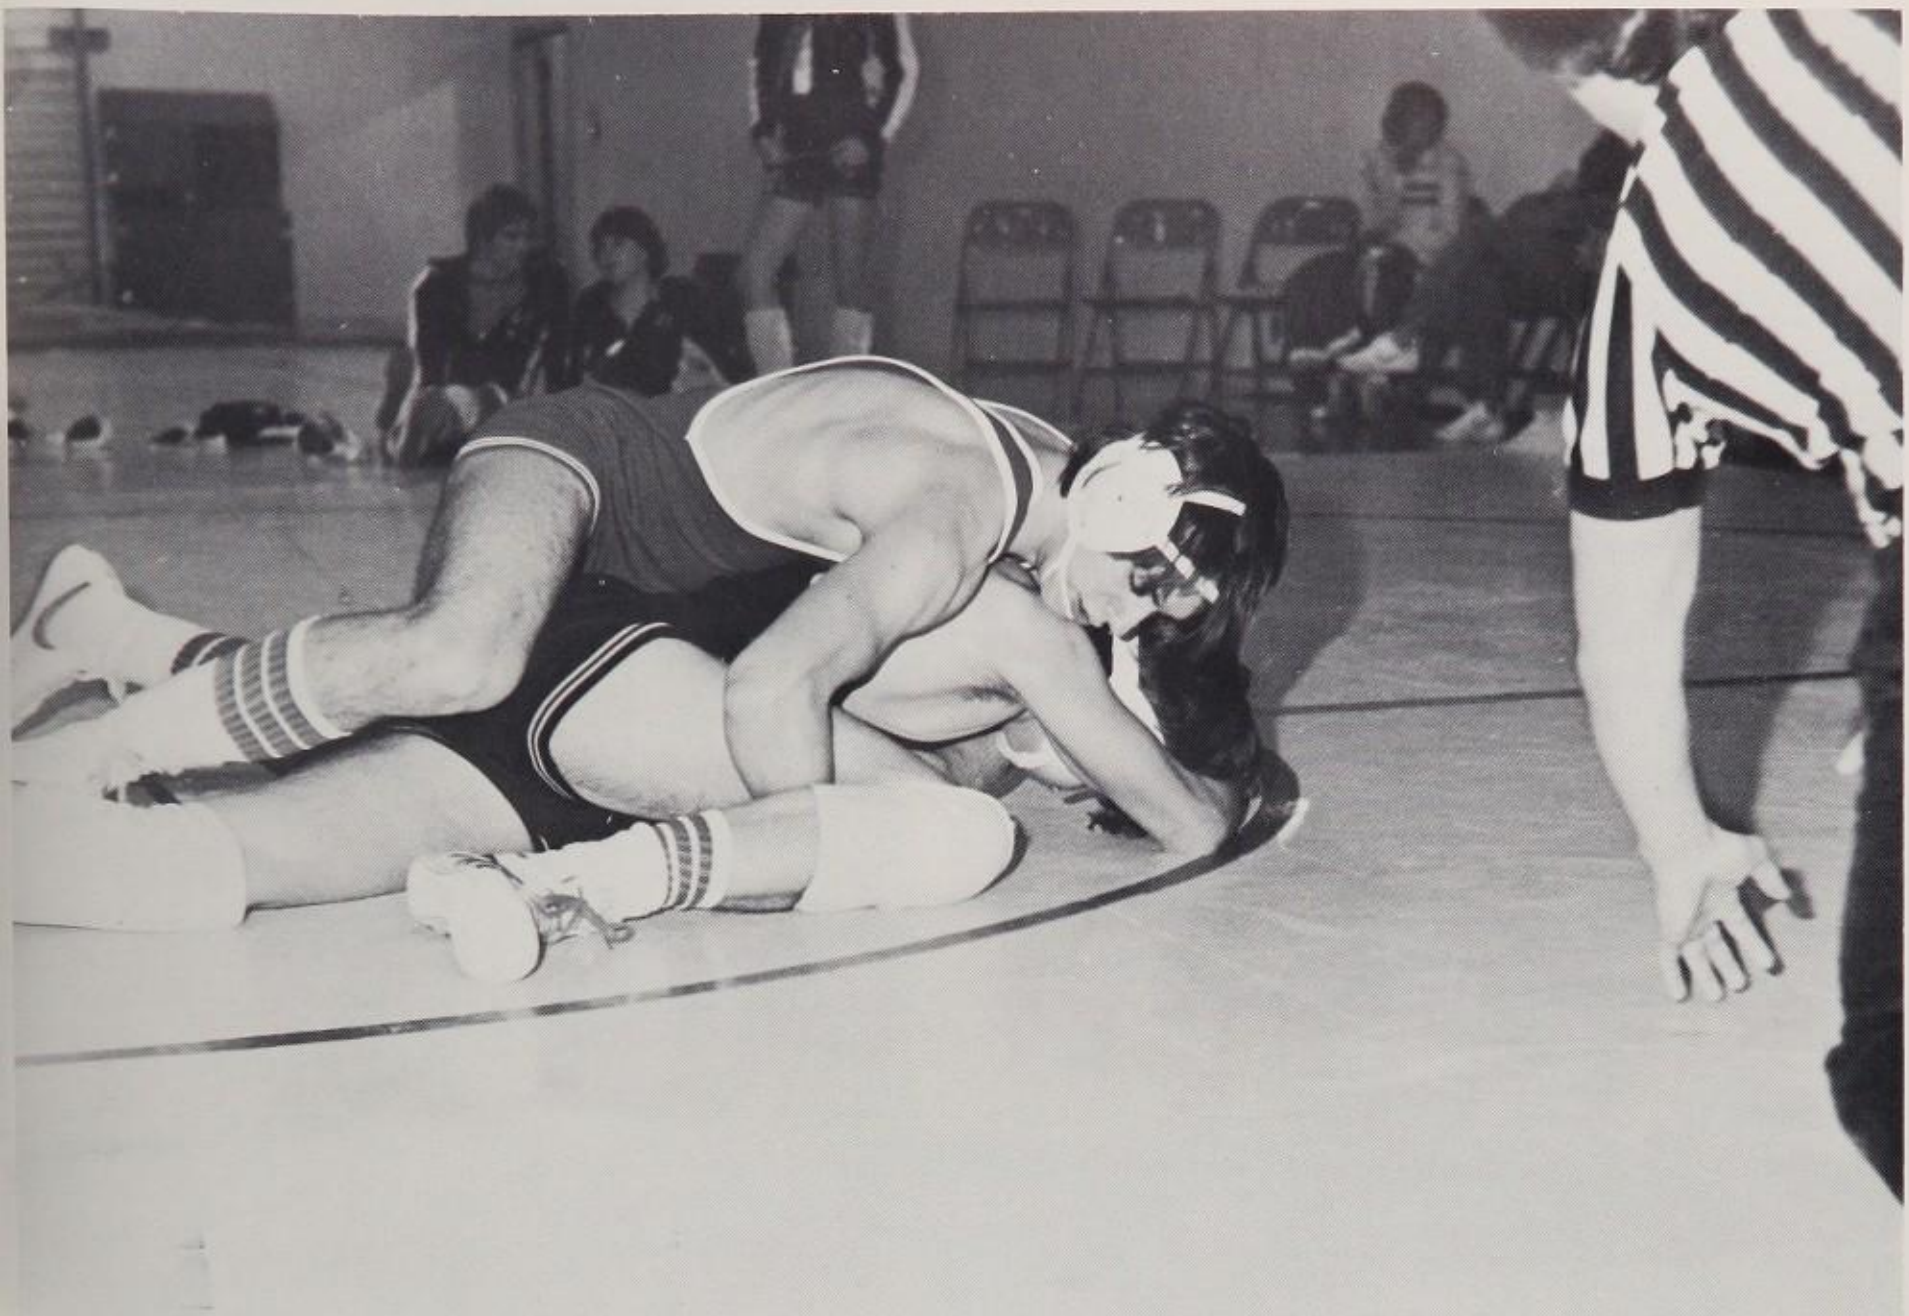
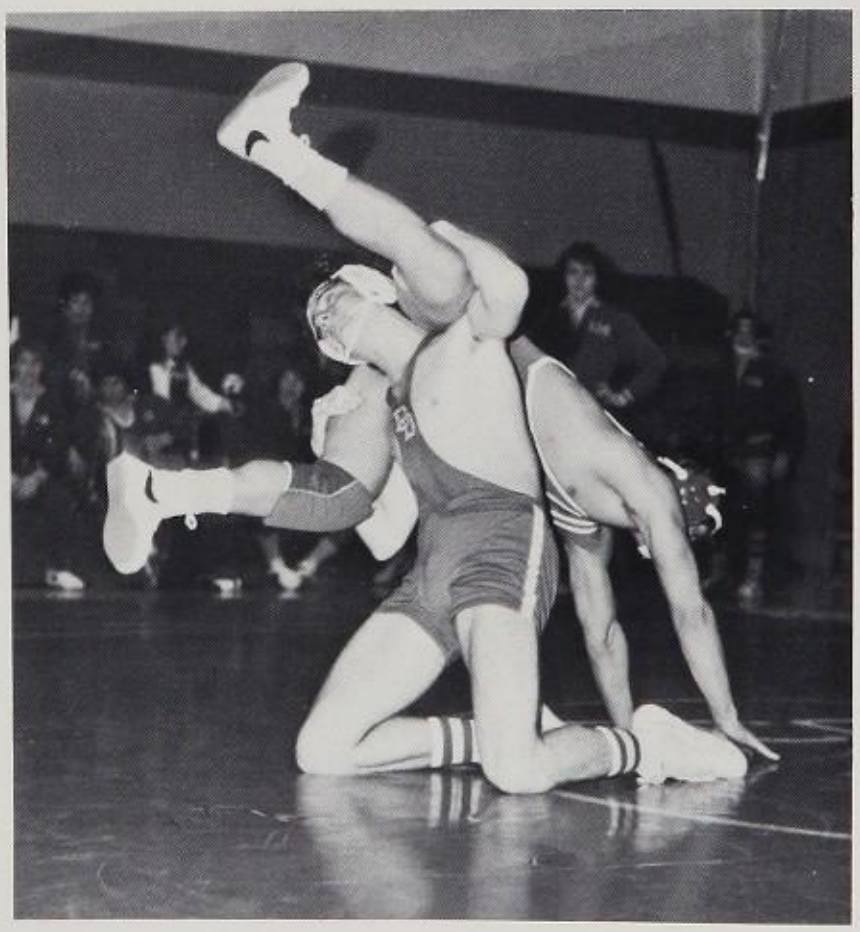
Cheering vociferously for their teammates, the frosh team shows their support . . . At the State meet Pat Wreath shows his expert style to the crowd.







Scots Show Consistency

The varsity baseball team finished the season with a 8-6 league record. Coached by Mr. Pete Ness, the boys played an impressively consistent game. The highlight of the season was when the team made a trip to California. Although the team didn't perform well in the Redwood State, Jim Wilson dazzled the crowds with a spectacular homerun.

Honors were awarded to seniors John Tallman, Joe Griffin, and team captain Gary Cawley who all made first team All-Metro. Other outstanding players were Jerry Wilson, Dale Terhune, and Peter Kracke. According to Kracke, varsity players that show promise for next year's squad are Todd Neuman, Bill Hart and Steve Nelson.

Jaha Inspires Softball Team

A victory over top rival Parkrose ended the varsity softball team's season with a 4-14 record. The girls played exceptionally well but lost many of their games by only one run.

The team will be losing a number of key players next year when eight of the senior girls graduate. Outstanding players that will be returning to play for the Scots will be Diana Bowlin, Debbi Blakesly, Suzy Nelson, and Joan Wicks. The girls are looking forward to next year's new league which should add more competitiveness. Honors were awarded this year to Gina Jaha for first team All-Metro. Michelle Nelson claimed an honorable mention title.

Girls Take 4th At District

The boys golf team finished the season with an 8-8 record. Switching off as the number one and number two players were Mark Ham and Mark Nelson. With Nelson being the only senior, coach Stan Woodfill said, "The boys team will have a much stronger game next year." Other key players on the team were Bob Pederson, Tom Dollens, and Charlie Smith.

Wrapping up their season with a 6-6 record, the girls golf team took fourth place at the District Tournament. Although they played only a little better than average, the team is looking forward to a spectacular season next year because of the talented '83 hopefuls who are Leann Seethaler, Dana Roberts, Tracy and Michelle Waltz.

Scot Netters Perfect Strokes

1982 proved to be a better than average season for the David Douglas tennis teams. The boys were very successful at the District match after ending the season with a 7-9 record. Dean Rowndy and Jeff Seto made the quarter finals in doubles. Another impressive showing was junior Paul Feller who made the quarter finals in singles.

The girls team was once again led by Kim Kalapus, who has been the number one player for the last three years. Competing at the State tourney this year, Kalapus was the first Scot to achieve this honor since 1973. At District freshmen Katie Molik and Karen Nelson teamed up to make it to quarter finals. The future looks right for the David Douglas netters.

State Meet Highlights Season

The Scots track team, coached by Mr. Walt Skowhede, highlighted their season with competition in the State Track Meet. The squad performed well as a whole but several of the tracksters stood out among the rest. Among these were Jeff Pittman and Nicole Dryer, sprints; Paul Ternes, pole vault; Gene Butenschoen, high jump; Deana Jones, hurdles; Julie Waage, shot and javelin; and Kristi Wreath, discus.

CLOCKWISE, LEFT: Releasing all of his energy in the last spring of the triple jump, Tracy Skowhede leaps high in the air . . . Flying over her next hurdle, Deanna Jones takes an early lead in the race . . . Hillard Cooke fights to gain an edge in the last leg of the 400 meter relay . . . Anticipating a rigorous race, the girls of the track team begin the 1500 meter run . . . Eager spectators Tracy Gonzales and Jennifer Best huddle in the cold weather to keep warm.

CLOCKWISE, LEFT: Leaping high in the air, Jill Johnson attempts to clear the bar . . . Throwing with determination, Julie Waage heaves the javelin high. Waage is the first girl from Davie Douglas to win the State championship in her event . . . After completing the 1500 meter run, Kamie Gustafson falls into the arms of teammate Nancy Davidson . . . Vaulting high in the air, Pat Turner carefully clears the bar and falls to the bag . . . With the perfect form Kristi Wreath throws the shotput in competition.

As the Class of '83 began the year in a new building, a marked difference could be seen in many of the juniors. Responsibility and maturity had replaced the former attitudes of the underclassmen. They participated in events like the mock trial and speech tournaments as well as competing in sports and other extracurricular activities. They have shown great potential and ability and many become the finest class the Scots have ever had.

Class of '84 Gains Experience

With the frustrations of their freshman year behind them, the sophomore class easily adjusted to their new status. As the year passed it became apparent that the sophomores had the ability to become an outstanding class. They were seen everywhere, whether in the classrooms, in sports, or in other activities. They combined their fine talents with great effort and emerged as a success.

Frosh Adopt a New Role

At the beginning of this year many new faces were seen around David Douglas. After the initial shock of being in high school wore off, the Class of '85 began to make themselves known. They participated in sports, drama, and music, as well as attaining distinction in the classroom. By the end of the year the freshman class had proved that they had the potential of becoming a great assest to our school.

CLOCKWISE, LEFT: Denise Hoffman ponders over the words of Mr. Delance Duncan . . . Mr. Joe Little discusses the pinata with Tami Kennedy and Karla Swanson . . . Jerry Neubert and the frosh basketball team work towards a victory . . . John Hoffard and Jeff Upton sample some of the results of their efforts . . . Nancy Davidson works with different chemicals in her ICP class.

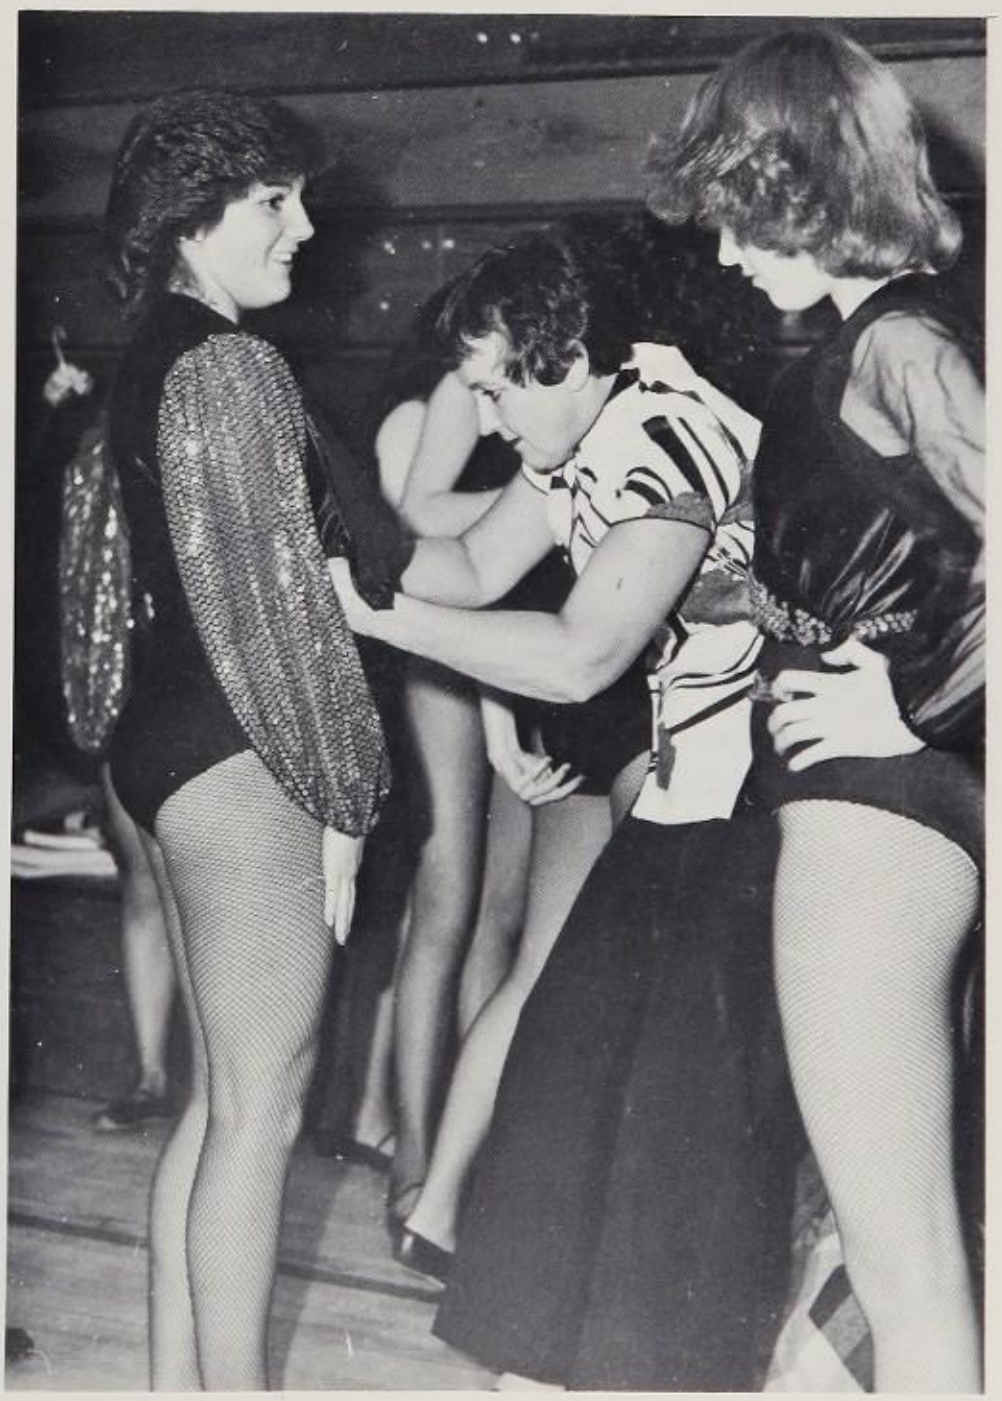
Freshmen eagerly became involved this year in the various activities offered at Douglas. Frosh athletic teams, such as the basketball squad (above) offered the opportunity to hone competitive skills. Michelle Ross (right) gets a final costume check while Tanya Heil awaits her turn prior to a Tams performance.



Scot Interests Many and Varied

Throughout the year the David Douglas Scots were often involved in many activities. They were seen in class and out, sometimes working and at other times just taking a break. Many talented students were to be found practicing in the music department of for an upcoming play. Afterschool hours were often spent out on the field competing in the various sports or just spending some time with a few close friends. As the year progressed, the excitement and anticipation for summer erupted with the warm weather. Certainly the underclass was looking forward to their vacation, but the senior class was interested in a future after graduation.

CLOCKWISE, BELOW: Careful observation is needed by Shelly Chassaing as she takes stats for a baseball game . . . Mrs. Donna Becker and the JV volleyball team take time to discuss a future meet . . . Kerri Schweiger finds time to enjoy her book during lunch . . . An interested Giana Haynes watches a varsity baseball game . . . In small engines class Paul Tyler concentrates on fixing the lawnmower at his side.

CLOCKWISE, ABOVE: Experiments are conducted in many science classes. Mr. Fred Brace gives an earthworm to Wade Hamilton to be dissected as an interested Curt Lind looks on . . . Filing records is part of student aide Tammy DeHart's job as she works in the attendance office . . . A wary David VanDyke is served French food by Lenette Sandness . . . Freshman Theresa Nice awaits her pitch during a softball game . . . Sandra Pierce concentrates on removing the clay from her hands in ceramics class.

Able Staff Guides Students

Much of a student's success during high school must be attributed to the caring and dedicated staff he encounters. David Douglas is fortunate to have such a staff. The faculty and administration constantly strive to enhance the educational process. We are deeply indebted to them for their wisdom, experience, and enthusiasm that has contributed so much to our development.
